69 Nazis Downed Today R.A.F. Smashes Air Bases

LONDON (AP)—A total of 69 German planes, biggest bag of the war along the English coast were destroyed today, the Air Ministry announced tonight. The British lost 9 planes. The R.A.F. meanwhile smashed at German-held bases on the Continent.

Southampton was bombed by German raiders and several fires were started.

Several R.A.F. airdromes in southeast England were attacked and a number of casualties caused at one of these, the communiqué said, "including some fatal injuries."

A communiqué acknowledged that 12 Royal Air Force bombers had failed to return from raids on the Continent.

British bombers raided 17 German air bases, the seaplane base at Borkum and the Gotha air-plane factory last night in raids which extended through north-west Germany, France and Holland, the statement said.

Fighting Plane Spirals Into Sea

At one southwest port this evening, a flaming enemy fighter spiralled into the sea. At a village six miles away, a German bomber crashed with two dead and one captured.

Air raid warnings were in effect over a wide area, embracing inland gunnery stations—one of them within half a mile of where a big Dornier bomber crashed this morning with its bomb racks still half full.

These mobile batteries and troop concentrations are scattered from the coast to several miles inland. On roads, new type barricades, designed to block invaders and yet to permit swift movement of defending troops, are being erected.

Today's and tonight's fighting brought to a climax the third successive day of power assault, following weeks in which the trend of air combat gradually increased and again today as on Sunday and Monday. The Nazis were using from 400 to 600 planes in what was apparently the first stage of their blitzkrieg against Great Britain. Coincidentally, from Berlin came predictions that the hour for an attempted actual invasion was approaching.

Attack Renewed In Afternoon

After a morning of fighting a swarm of German raiders returned to the attack on 200 miles of English Channel coast late this afternoon, fighting a large scale combat with defending planes behind low-hanging clouds.

The thunder of scores of motors and the crashes of several planes told the story to ground observers, although the clouds hid most of the fighting.

During the day the enemy came over in waves of 50 or more at a time and were heavily engaged by large R.A.F. forces.

The Germans drove their strongest attacks across an 80-mile stretch from the Thames estuary to the Sussex coast, and also struck at more distant objectives.

Today's activities brought Nazi losses since mass air attacks started last Thursday to at least 258 planes.

British losses have been 73.

with the Royal Air Force and coastal defences maintaining their record as marksmen with a continuous 3 to 1 ratio of successes.

The German losses include only those claimed officially by the British Air Ministry—and do not take into consideration those destroyed on the ground during R.A.F. raids and others so badly crippled they could not reach home.

6 Days' Nazi Losses Total 258 Planes

Following is a compilation by the Canadian Press of the losses from Thursday, August 8:

The official British account of today's raids was guarded.

It was said the main attack was lengthened to take in the bombing of both seaside towns and country districts in Hampshire coasts. There was minor damage inflicted at Portsmouth yesterday.

The authorized accounts stressed the damage done by the British Spitfire and Hurricane fighter defenders.

One squadron of Spitfires chased a large formation of Dornier bombers across the Channel toward France and "damaged at least five." Another Spitfire group engaged more than 30 Dorniers—five miles above the coast of Kent.

A British flying officer attacked four German bombers "one after the other, silencing the rear gunner in two of them and seeing thick clouds of smoke pouring from a third as it dived, crippled, toward the sea."

Hot Fight Over Thames Estuary

Over the Thames estuary, the waterway to London, two dozen Dorniers, flying in tight wedge formation, were attacked by a group of Spitfires. The official account said that a sergeant pilot who already had shot down eight German planes "saw the rear gunner of a bomber he had attacked jump out by parachute." The plane fell toward the water.

Reports from one southeast coast town said at least six German planes were shot down off two points in that area.

No Proof Found Of Channel Shelling

Undertone to the day of aerial struggle were reports of the reported shelling by a long-range cannon yesterday of one southeast coastal town. Householders expressed belief that shells, not bombs, caused damage to houses. However, authorities said there was no confirmation "at all" of the reported cannonade.

The extent of today's mass employment of raiding planes was pointed up by one story which said that Hurricane fighters, battling the invasion over the Sussex coast, engaged 50 bombers—Dorniers, Heinkels and Junkers—and that "a long way behind were 50 Messerschmitt fighters, flying at 15,000 feet."

At least one Junker was shot down. Probably destroyed were listed: Four more Junkers, two Dorniers and two Fighters.

Townpeople in the streets of one southwestern town stood in the streets and watched R.A.F. planes fight at least 50 raiders in a cloudy sky. Six Germans were reported destroyed and the rest scattered.

Despite the hundreds of planes which the Germans used today and the "zero hour" predictions from the continent, some British experts said they didn't believe the battle yet had reached "blitzkrieg" force.

Germany, they said, can afford to send 1,000 planes a day against Britain in an attempt to smash aerial resistance. They speculated, too, on the possibility that the Reich may try to maintain an aerial blockade rather than risk a frontal assault.

Besides constantly arriving reports of German planes shot down in scattered regions, at least 13 German airmen were captured and two others were seen dropping by parachute into a wood.

A barrage balloon trapped one German bomber off the southeast coast.

Hitler Using His Best Pilots

Apparently the Germans were putting their best pilots into the raids as captured airmen seemed better trained, more experienced and physically superior to those taken previously.

Survivors of one downed Nazi warplane today included a young couple.

INVASION?

Britain's press warned the public today to prepare for a possible German attempt at invasion as the heaviest aerial warfare in history raged into its third consecutive day along a 200-mile stretch of the English south coast. Newspapers said the battle of Britain was on.

A low ceiling in the morning forced Nazi pilots to fly "on top" where, apparently, Royal Air Force patrols were waiting for them. At some points the roar of engines, the rattle of machine guns and the thud of aircraft cannon could be heard above the clouds while showers of empty cartridge cases and spent machine gun bullets poured into the streets.

WATCHING

On occasions the Germans dived through the clouds and bombed at low level before they were driven off by British fighters hanging on their tails.

The R.A.F. was believed to have made an extensive raid over Germany today, for the Columbia Broadcasting System's New York listening post heard three Berlin radio stations go off the air just as they were about to announce "news" broadcasts. They were silent a half hour.

The R.A.F. is watching the south side of the English Channel and other points on German occupied coasts for signs of troop embarkations that would mean a German attempt to ferry landing parties across the water.

CONCENTRATED

The attack appeared to be concentrated on south coast naval ports, apparently in an effort to soften defenses for the invasion attempt.

At the same time the Nazis occasionally machine gunned streets in some towns and dropped bombs among houses and public buildings, causing an unannounced number of casualties. This apparently was an effort to break down public morale, but newspapermen who visited some of the bombed towns said the public took life extremely calmly and did not even run when sirens sounded.

ZERO HOUR

In Berlin it was reported the zero hour for the attempt to land troops was rapidly approaching and the bombing raids on Britain were described as in the nature of an artillery bombardment. Their aim, it was said, was to destroy coastal defenses, railways and other forms of transportation to hinder the movement of defending troops.

However, in this regard again, newspapermen on a coastal tour in England said they found little evidence of damage.

It was predicted in Berlin the

B.C. Pilot Killed

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP)—Pilot Officer Garth (Bunny) Beley, 20-year-old Royal Air Force fighter pilot, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Beley of Rossland, died yesterday from wounds received in aerial combat Sunday over England, according to word received here this afternoon. No further details were given.

Trawlers Lost

LONDON (AP)—Loss of the British minesweeping trawlers Tamarisk and Pyrope by air attack was announced by the Admiralty tonight.

Sports Writer in Navy

CALGARY (CP)—Reginald Hayden, well-known sports writer and member of the reporting staff of the Calgary Herald for the past seven years, will go on active service with the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, Calgary division, starting tomorrow. He will hold the rank of sub-lieutenant. He is the son of C. A. Hayden, former managing editor of the Calgary Herald.

R.A.A.F. Plane Missing

CANBERRA (CP)—A Royal Australian Air Force plane which left Brisbane Monday and has not been heard of since is believed to have fallen into the sea and the crew of six drowned, it was announced tonight.

The announcement was made a few hours after another air force machine had crashed near the Canberra airport, killing three members of the Australian war cabinet, the chief of the general staff and six others.

Invasion attempt might start within 72 hours, a prediction quite likely to be wrong as the Nazis would hardly call their shots by giving out the information on which such a prophecy could be made accurately.

AT WEEKEND

However, 72 hours would bring the attack at the weekend, Hitler's favorite time for action.

On the African front Italians were reported still massing troops and vehicles along the Egyptian border. Egypt prepared for extraordinary wartime measures and warned Italy she would fight with Britain if her neutrality was violated.

Italians reported their Ethiopian and Somali troops were engaged in a violent battle in Somaliland, but no word of confirmation came from British sources.

Italy also was busy threatening Greece and denouncing that little friend of Britain for the alleged assassination of a man the Greeks called a highwayman and the Italians an Albanian patriot.

Crop Prospects Good

OTTAWA (CP)—With the 1940 harvest underway, Canada's crop prospects appear generally favorable, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today in the sixth of a series of seven fortnightly telegraphic crop reports covering conditions throughout the Dominion.

Deaths Regretted

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King this afternoon cabled direct to Prime Minister Menzies of Australia the sympathies of the Canadian government and the Canadian people at the deaths of three members of the Australian war cabinet, the chief of the general staff and six others in an airplane crash.

"Australia's loss is shared by every nation of the British Commonwealth," he said.

Earlier the Prime Minister had telephoned Sir William Glasgow, Australian high commissioner to Canada, to express sympathy.

The Prime Minister also cabled the Canadian high commissioner in Australia, asking that he convey to the Australian government the sympathy of the Canadian government and the Canadian people.

24 Pilots a Month

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta's elementary flying school at Lethbridge is now in a position to turn out 24 pilots every four weeks, Robert Wilkinson, Calgary oil operator and president of the Lethbridge Flying Training School, stated here this afternoon. On completion of their training at Lethbridge, the men will join R.C.A.F. flying service schools throughout the Dominion.

Churchill Sees King

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill was received in audience by the King tonight.

Logger, Lineman Accident Victims

Two deaths at Vancouver Island points—one a drowning, the other a logging accident—were reported by divisional headquarters of the B.C. police here today.

Robert Wilson, government telegraph lineman, was drowned in San Mateo Bay, near the Alberni Canal.

Ernest Wornor succumbed to Campbell River Hospital today to injuries received when he was struck by a falling snag last Friday at the Bloodie, Stewart and Welch camp at Bloodie. A brother, William, lives in Vancouver.

Britain Hits From Jutland to Biscay

LONDON (CP)—An Air Ministry statement tonight said:

"Targets attacked by R.A.F. bombers last night included the Gotha airplane factory and other objectives in northwest Germany and enemy-occupied territory in France and Holland. Attacks were pressed home in spite of ice and clouds."

"Raids were also made on 17 airdromes and the seaplane base at Borkum. From these operations 20 smaller explosions, observed more explosions on the docks while returning home."

The ministry said that probably an ammunition dump was hit.

Bombing raids on enemy territory last night were hampered by 20 degrees below zero temperature and ice-forming conditions prevailing up to a height of more than 3 miles, the ministry said.

Some planes heavily loaded with bombs became heavily coated with ice and were "unable because of the additional weight to climb out of the danger of ground defenses" until they had reached their targets and released their bombs.

A bulletin amplifying the communiqué said that a "tremendous explosion" followed an attack by a Blenheim bomber on docks at the Netherlands harbor of Helder, and that the pilot, after seeing 20 smaller explosions, observed more explosions on the docks while returning home.

FIRES IN AMSTERDAM

AMSTERDAM, German-occupied Netherlands (AP via Berlin)—British bombs started 20 fires in Amsterdam last night. One person was killed and several injured.

Outside of Amsterdam, two persons were killed.

(The large airport at Amsterdam had been repeatedly raided by the Royal Air Force.)

Greece Rebuffs Nazis

ATHENS (AP)—Diplomatic sources reported tonight that Premier General John Metaxas had turned down a Rome-Berlin "suggestion" that Greece formally renounce Great Britain's guarantee of her independence and territorial integrity.

The committee is headed by Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal of Queen's University, and consists of 29 members, including representative citizens from all provinces, mainly those interested in child welfare work.

In making the announcement, Mr. Crerar said the movement of children from the United Kingdom to Canada may attain "considerable proportions during the next few months."

The committee will serve voluntarily, its expenses to be borne by the Dominion government.

Sir Gerald Campbell, British high commissioner to Canada, or his representative, will work with the committee, as will Keith Jopson, an English expert recently sent to Canada by the British government in a consultative capacity.

Honorary members of the committee are Sir Gerald Campbell, Senator Cairine Wilson, who was one of the moving spirits behind the plan to bring child evacuees to Canada; Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa and Philip S. Blane of Montreal.

Serving with Mr. Winslow as British Columbia representatives is W. C. Woodward of Vancouver. Representing Alberta on the committee is R. A. Brown Sr., Calgary, and W. J. Dick, Edmonton.

Named to Child Evacuee Board

F. E. Winslow, local manager of the Royal Trust Company and prominent in child welfare work in Victoria, has been named to the National Advisory Committee to handle children from overseas, according to an announcement made in Ottawa this morning by Resources Minister Crerar.

GAMELIN, DALADIER TRIALS START SOON

RIOM, France (AP)—The Petain government formally accused "ministers, former ministers and their immediate civil and military subordinates" today of betraying their charge as servants of the nation by taking France, unprepared, "to war."

The government headed by the 84-year-old chief of state, Marshal Philippe Petain, who surrendered to Germany, demanded France's new supreme court inquire into happenings of the pre-war and war period with the purpose of fixing individual "war guilt" accusation.

The court was requested to proceed with investigations against "Monsieur X" and charges against a definite personage or personages, it was said, will be lodged.

There were indications the two principal figures will be Edouard Daladier, the premier who declared war, and Gen. Marie-Gustave Gamelin, former commander-in-chief.

Soldiers Now Farmers

PERE-CHAMPENOISE, France (via Berlin)—Delayed (AP)—French prisoners of war, still wearing parts of their khaki uniforms, are toiling under the hot sun, cutting and stacking wheat.

Throughout the broad plains of the Champagne region, groups of former soldiers, with the approval of their German captors, have hired themselves out to wheat growers.

Claiming that since yesterday the British air force fliers are "seeking to avoid fights," Germans said the Nazi tactics now are to force them into combat or risk having their airports, hangars and shops destroyed and planes demolished on the ground.

(Destruction of 62 German planes over England yesterday, and of about 258 since last Thursday, show clearly the Royal Air Force is not "seeking to avoid fights.")

In the case of England, it is of prime importance to the Nazis to have coastal batteries silenced. Only if this can be largely achieved is the hazardous task of landing troops likely to be tackled.

Cudahy Blames London Press

NEW YORK (AP) — John Cudahy, United States ambassador to Belgium, who was reprimanded for giving an interview in London on the Belgian situation, said today "all the London papers except one, the London Times, distorted my statements so much that I couldn't even recognize them."

Cudahy returned on the Dixie Clipper from Horta, under instructions, he said, "not to talk at this time."

At the airport he called the State Department, and also put in a telephone call for Miss Margaret Le Hand, President Roosevelt's secretary.

He told reporters he was "violently shocked" when he saw some of the London reports of the interview.

"I am absolutely puzzled by my position," he said.

Asked whether he had resigned, he said: "I haven't resigned yet. I am going to issue a full statement later."

"I am like an officer in the army who is called before his general and cannot talk before he gets there. It would not be compatible with my situation as a subordinate."

He said he had given the best of his efforts and time "and I have at times been in danger."

"I have no fear of the opinions of my friends," he said, "I don't care about."

Asked if he had criticized the American army, he replied, "I was a member of the United States army in north Russia, and if I criticized the United States army I would be criticizing my own army. I am being questioned about an outrageous statement."

He said he had not given any statement to newspapermen abroad criticizing American soldiers.

He was quoted in the interview as saying the German army had behaved better than American soldiers would have in the same circumstances.

Questioned about his observations expressed in a London interview that Belgium faced a famine this winter, unless food was shipped through the British blockade, he said, "that's none of my business, sending food to Belgium."

The amphibians of millions of years ago, were the first creatures on earth to have voices.

Heat Delays Fighting at Egypt's Border

Italians Repulsed at Somaliland Pass

CAIRO (CP) — A communique from the British command here today said:

"Reports are now received of a general attack on our positions covering Jugargan Pass (in British Somaliland) on August 11. In spite of intensive support by low-flying aircraft, the attacks were broken up and repulsed by our artillery and small arms fire."

"In one place, the enemy obtained a small local advantage, but was immediately counter-attacked. One large enemy bomber was brought down by infantry fire."

(Jugargan Pass is 35 miles southeast of Berbera, capital and principal port of British Somaliland, toward which Italian columns have been attempting to drive across burnt wastes since their occupation last week of Hargeisa and Oadweina.)

Egypt Ready For Full Defence

"On other fronts, nothing to report."

Reports that Italy is concentrating troops along the Libyan-Egyptian border drew from the press a warning that Egypt would throw all her resources into the fight beside Britain if she were attacked.

"If the Italians march on Egypt they will clash with British forces camped along the western frontier as well as Egyptian forces, for it is natural that Egypt must defend herself against invasion," the newspaper Albalagh said.

The same paper expressed the opinion the Italian attack may be expected during "the last two weeks of August or early in September when the heat is more bearable and their preparations are completed."

Decisive Fighting On Libya's Border

The newspaper discounted the Italian drive into British Somaliland and predicted the decisive battles of the war in Africa would be fought along the Libyan-Egyptian border.

Military observers said they expected Marshal Graziani, Italian commander in North Africa, to take a leaf from Hitler's war book if he attacks Egypt.

With the western frontier still "all quiet," Graziani continued moving up tanks, planes and trucks.

Because of the intense desert heat, military observers said, a large-scale infantry attack would be impracticable. Motorized units were likely, therefore, they said, to lead the way in a quick attempt to split the British lines.

The ministry of supply began a survey of available foodstuffs in Egypt today with a view to taking immediate control of commodities of which there are insufficient supplies on hand.

The ministry indicated it was prepared to institute rationing for the first time in the country's history if such a step appeared advisable.

At the same time the ministry clamped down on profiteers to

German Claims On Air Raids

BERLIN (AP) — Today's German high command communique said:

"German flying units yesterday attacked port facilities and airbases along the English southern and eastern coast. Numerous bombs were dropped on the war harbor at Portsmouth. A big power plant at the shipyards at Vospers was burning."

"Dock and quay facilities as well as a patrol boat in the Channel were hit by bombs. During these raids, fierce air battle developed in which 43 enemy planes were downed. We succeeded in destroying or setting afire hangars, wharf facilities and barracks on airports at Manston, Canterbury, Hawkins and Lympne."

It was announced in London that the German planes caused little or no damage to important military objectives, but that some civilian property was damaged and there were a number of casualties.

"At Manston, a British chaser unit was caught at the start and three planes of the Hurricane type were destroyed in the air and four on the ground. At other points, an additional eight planes were destroyed on the ground."

"At Dover, German planes set afire two barrage balloons."

"During air battles developing in these regions, the enemy lost 3 planes in the sea east of Southend."

The German air force yesterday lost 62 planes. R.A.F. losses were 12 planes.

"Dive-bombers attacked a strongly-protected convoy, and despite hectic defence by chasers and anti-aircraft, sank two merchantmen totaling 5,500 tons. Another ship was set afire."

(The Admiralty did not comment on this claim. Yesterday it was announced two small British ships had shot down five German bombers in a Channel raid.)

"In the course of the night of August 12-13, bombing raids were aimed at ship targets at Swansea and Cardiff (Wales), as well as anti-aircraft and searchlights near Plymouth and Humbermouth. Mining of British ports continued."

"British planes in the course of the same night bombed northern and western German territory. The total losses yesterday were 22 planes, of which 12 were destroyed on the ground, four by anti-aircraft and the rest in air fights. Twenty-four German planes are missing."

(German communique continues to attempt to make it appear that the Nazi airmen are scoring three to one successes.)

1,400 U.S. Planes Monthly to Britain Late in 1941

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur B. Purvis, chief British purchasing agent, disclosed today that the United States had offered to supply Britain with between 1,300 and 1,400 of the 3,000 fighting planes monthly requested. Delivery of the planes, however, would not start before "late 1941," he said.

He said this smaller program had been suggested by William S. Knudsen of the United States defense commission.

Britain wanted the larger number starting next January, but Knudsen suggested they plan on a smaller number beginning "late in 1941."

Purvis said the proposals were still in the study stage. He could not predict what eventual arrangements might be made. He likewise declined to say how many planes would be delivered under existing contracts.

He said he was here to discuss the matter with officials and also to introduce Charles Richard Fairley, noted British yachtsman and airplane manufacturer, who has come here to assist in the purchasing program.

3rd Scottish Has Company Parade

Third Battalion Canadian Scottish, paraded last night for the first time in company arrangements at the Armories and Lieut. Col. Brooke Stephenson said he was pleased with the smart show ing. After two weeks of night training the "part-time" soldiers demonstrated a snap and zest in their drill that would do credit to veterans.

The battalion now has the nucleus of four companies in training. The first lot will go into camp for two weeks at Heals' on August 25.

Their work at the Armories has been mainly confined to marching and squad instruction. They will turn to the more intricate phases of modern warfare when they get into camp.

Vancouver's nonpermanent active militia units are practically full with the deadline for volunteer recruiting only two days away. Only the Scottish and the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade units remain to be filled in Victoria.

Word from Ottawa says the N.P.A.M. is destined to play a big role in the present war, so big in fact that the term "non-permanent" is much less descriptive than in peacetime.

Apart from serving as the foundation for and the gateway to the Canadian Active Service Force which serves full time both at home and overseas, the militia stands by to meet emergencies which may arise in or close to Canada.

The step from militia to the Canadian Active Service Force for service anywhere in Canada or outside Canada is taken voluntarily, however. Should militia units be mobilized into the C.A.S.F., men will have the choice of retesting for service anywhere or remaining as militiamen.

Latest official figures show N.P.A.M. strength in Canada at 68,349 on August 8. All these men, however, will not get a stretch of training at camp before autumn ends, because facilities would be overtaxed.

Starting with the militia summer camps now functioning in different parts of Canada training will be practically continuous in the militia until the end of the war. It will not be continuous for the individual militiamen, but there will always be some men in training under a cadre of permanently-employed instructors and administrative officers.

Except for extra training and greater possibilities of being placed on active service, the duties of a militiaman differ little in wartime from the duties in peacetime.

He is expected to take a certain amount of training which is arranged in such a way as to interfere as little as possible with his civilian occupation. He is liable to be called out for any duty with his unit for service in Canada in case of an emergency.

In peacetime, enlistment in the militia is voluntary and attendance at drills and camps is voluntary for practical purposes. In peacetime a man signs on for three years when he enlists.

Tension Mounts in Balkans

Italy Wants Districts Of Greece and Yugoslavia

ROME (AP) — Authoritative Italian circles indicated tonight that Italy would claim slices of both Greek and Yugoslav territory sooner or later as the Italian-ruled Albania in a "general settlement."

Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor and often Mussolini's mouthpiece, said the Italian government expected Greece to "answer for its new crimes." He declared Italy could not tolerate Greece's "acts against the independence of Albania" and accused Greece of designs on Albania.

With the Italian-Greek tension mounting, friction between Italy and Yugoslavia was reported by the Fascist press.

The Yugoslav difficulty, according to the newspaper La Tribuna, was over the killing of a minor Fascist leader in the Italian town of Zara on the Yugoslav coast. The Zara populace was said to be aroused.

Fascist Leonardo Cluovich, the dispatch said, was killed when he objected to a stranger singing a Slav song on a Zara street.

It described him as Zara's "first Fascist martyr" whose name will be fittingly honored.

Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor, accused Greece of seeking to seize part of Italian-held Albania.

The accusation was contained in Gayda's claim that the Greek version of the slaying near the Greek frontier of an Albanian, Daut Hoggia, was not correct.

(Since the Good Friday invasion of 1939 which toppled King Zog from his throne, Albania has been incorporated within the Italian Empire.)

three years or the duration of the war, whichever is longer.

A hostile force landed in Canada and the Canadian Active Service Force units, the full-time, fully trained soldiery, were not sufficient to repel it, a number of militia units might be placed on active service and sent against the enemy. They might also be called out to assist the police forces in the event of riot or civil disturbance.

In such cases every member of the militia units concerned would be under a binding legal obligation to report for duty and serve.

This obligation, however, under express declarations of policy by the government extends only to service in Canada. The terms of the Militia Act, technically speaking, permit the government to put the militia on active service anywhere for the defence of Canada.

The number of men to be called up for training and membership in the militia depends on military necessities. Plans now made cover anticipated requirements for the first year and call for 300,000 men in addition to the 700,000 or so now in the militia by voluntary enlistment.

Military necessity will also decide the amount of training to be given when another year rolls around to men in the militia and those who will enter within the next 12 months.

Under the National Resources Mobilization Act which authorized the compulsory call, the militia will serve more as a stepping stone to service in the Canadian Active Service Force than ever before. To some extent it will be a pathway to service in the air force and the navy.

Saturday night a unique dinner was held at the Union Club, where the officers of the three battalions of the Scottish gathered with men who commanded the old 16th Battalion. Those present represented practically an unbroken line of command from the early days of the Great War up to the present.

Lieut.-Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., was chairman. Around the table there were: Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., commander in France from 1916 to 1919; Col. J. E. Leckie, C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., commander from 1915 to 1916; Col. D. B. Martyn, Brigadier D. Roy Sargent, who arrived unexpectedly from the east; Lieut.-Col. Walter Barty of the 2nd Battalion, Lieut.-Col. J. R. Kingham of the 1st Battalion, Lieut.-Col. F. Brooke Stephenson of the 3rd Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Lorne Ross and Lieut.-Col. S. D. Johnson, M.C. Toasts to the King, to the Princess Royal, commander-in-chief of the regiment, and to "The Spirit of the Regiment" were drunk. Pipe-majors furnished music.

RUSSIA BACKS BULGARIA

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press asserted today Bulgaria's territorial demands on Rumania have the support of Soviet Russia.

The Soviet Union always has taken a position, declared a statement appearing in both the government newspaper Izvestia and in Pravda, Communist party organ.

The statement said the Bulgarian claims were "just and well-founded."

Barefooted Pilot Held

LONDON (CP) — Railwaymen who helped a German pilot out of a plane shot down in a stubble field in southeast England, took a novel means to prevent his escape.

They took off his shoes and socks.

Bare footed, the pilot didn't budge.

TEXAS OIL HEAD QUILTS COMPANY

NEW YORK (AP)—Torkild Rieber has resigned as chairman of the board of the Texas Corporation "because of certain publicity, detrimental to the company," arising from his association with Dr. Herhard A. Westrick, German commercial agent in the United States.

A statement from the board of directors said the resignation was accepted yesterday. The meeting lasted seven hours and during it Rieber discussed with the board his reasons for resigning.

Westrick's activities in the United States have been more or less mysterious, but he is an accredited attaché of the German embassy and business representative of the Nazi government. He has had wide dealings with American businessmen.

After it was disclosed two weeks ago that he was living on an estate at suburban Scarsdale, the State Motor Vehicle Department began an investigation of his automobile registration and driver's license. Last Friday it revoked both on the grounds the applications contained false statements.

Canadian Pilot Tells of Battles Over Britain

Anti-aircraft Crews Blast Nazis From Skies, Help Fighters to Make Monday's Bag 62

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry issued the following communiqué today:

"Full reports of yesterday's enemy casualties show that a total of 62 enemy aircraft were destroyed, made up as follows: 26 bombers, 25 single-engined fighters, 11 twin-engined fighters and fighter bombers.

"Sunday's total of 60 consisted of 12 bombers, 10 fighter bombers, 19 single-engined fighters, 18 twin-engined fighters and one sea-plane."

Loss of 12 British planes yesterday previously had been announced.

Between 500 and 600 German planes participated in yesterday's raids; the spokesman said, enumerating as the British bag:

Eight Junkers 88's, 6 Junkers 87's, 3 Dornier 21's, 2 Dornier 17's, 11 Messerschmitt 109's, 24 Messerschmitt 109's, 1 Heinkel anti-aircraft fire, which have not been identified.

Germany lost more than 100 trained airmen in the fighting yesterday and "only 12 of our pilots did not return," the Air Ministry News Service said.

As fast as the Germans came, British Spitfire and Hurricane fighters rose to meet them. Most of the battles were fought above the clouds.

Streets of southeastern towns were reported to be strewn with spent machine gun bullets from battles raging high overhead.

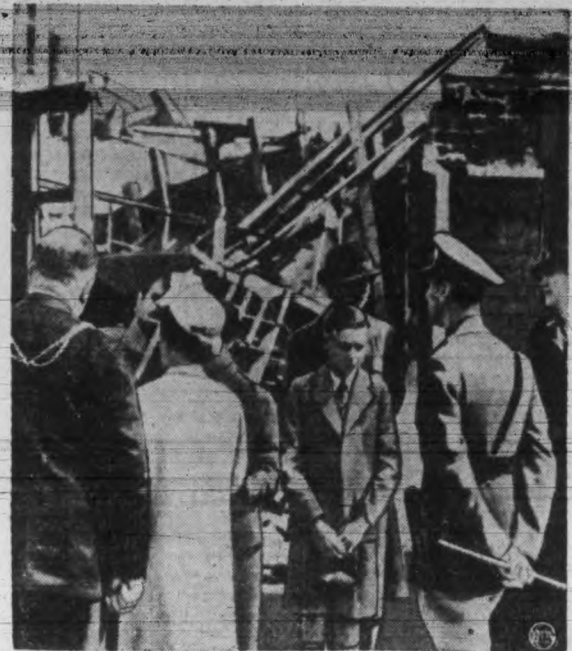

Airmen Battle Day and Night

The mass raids, aimed all over the country but directed chiefly at Portsmouth, Southampton and Dover, were followed up by thrusts through the dark hours of this morning which inflicted a number of casualties in southwest England and Wales.

Hitler's warplanes pressed their attacks by moonlight also in the southeast, northeast and north-west coastal districts of England. Gunfire from ground batteries repeatedly drove off raiders appearing over a wide area of Wales early today. Bombs dropping in a coastal town caused a number of casualties and damaged houses.

In the southwest coastal area bombs crashed in two streets in a thickly-populated district. Explosions demolished some houses, started a fire and caused several casualties.

The fighting was described in an Air Ministry bulletin which said: "The German air force again made mass attacks on harbors, airdromes and shipping along the south coast of England, and once again the R.A.F. fight command and the anti-aircraft guns inflicted heavy punishment on the raiders."

Ack-acks Take Bag Of 7 Nazi Planes

"Anti-aircraft gunners had their best day since raids on the south coast began. They shot down seven German bombers."

"For the first time Lewis gunners of a searchlight company in this country saw their bullets hit and bring to earth a German raider. They first saw this aircraft, a Junkers 87 dive bomber, diving over them towards its objective. They waited to open fire until it was very close to them and then saw it continue its dive to destruction."

"Light anti-aircraft gunners in the Portsmouth area brought three Junkers 87's down in flames. Crews of heavier anti-aircraft guns watched their shells burst ing around German bombers which looked like specks in the sky.

"Soon the specks were seen to be aircraft struggling in vain to keep their height. A few seconds later they crashed to earth."

"White parachutes of German airmen were seen among the shell bursts of anti-aircraft fire. "Guns of one battery secured a direct hit on an enemy bomber, which exploded in mid-air."

"Two complete machine guns from it were seen to fall to earth."

Canadian Bags 6 And Gets Medal

"Two pilots learned a few minutes before they took off to engage the enemy that they had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. They belonged to a squadron which went up to attack an enemy formation which was flying off the southeast coast at a height of 20,000 feet. "One is a Canadian flight lieutenant and in Sunday's air battle he shot down two more enemy raiders, bringing his total to six. "The other pilot is a South African. Sunday he shot down one Messerschmitt fighter, making his total bag also six. "The Canadian flight lieutenant saw in front of him six Messerschmitt 109 fighters flying in line astern. He attacked the second German fighter, which went down with smoke pouring from the fuselage. Then he opened fire on the leading Messerschmitt. "The South African, a flying officer, took on the last Messerschmitt, which immediately dived towards the sea. "As he turned his Hurricane around in the sky and climbed slightly, another Messerschmitt flew across his bow. The South African opened fire at point blank range. "Dense smoke and liquid poured from the German pilot's machine," said the flying officer, when he landed. "Although my engine stopped I dived after him. Fortunately my engine restarted, the Messerschmitt pilot pulled out of his dive at about 5,000 feet and then started to dive again. I was not HERE THEY COME!—British anti-aircraft crews, "Ack-Acks" in army parlance, rush to man the guns as German raiders approach. Batteries such as this were credited with seven Nazi bombers in yesterday's mass raids on the Channel coast.

SCENE OF GREATEST AIR BATTLES—Germany's most intensive air and sea attack on Channel shipping and the British coast was thrown back with heavy losses in titanic battle over the week-end. Meanwhile R.A.F. bombers kept up their attacks on German objectives and raided as far north as Bergen, Norway. Map shows the combat area.

on his tail, and at 3,000 feet opened fire. The German pilot continued to dive and landed on the water. Within a minute the aircraft had sunk, and I saw the pilot swimming about in the middle of a big patch of air bubbles which had been caused by the sinking of his machine. "I sent back a message on my radio telephone asking for a launch to be sent out to the German airman's rescue and gave him the position. I then flew back to my base.

"The Canadian flight lieutenant reported when he landed that the leading Messerschmitt caught fire after he had attacked it. "The air was filled with Nazi aircraft," said the Canadian. "There seemed to be thousands of Messerschmitts, Spitfires and Hurricanes all mixed up in a series of dog fights. "The three Hurricanes which I was leading concentrated on the six Messerschmitts. I saw the South African shoot down his Messerschmitt and the other pilot to their mountings, but they are much more affected by wind and climatic conditions than the heavier projectile. . . .

"Another factor enters into this cross-channel bombardment business. It will not be long—in fact it may have happened now—before our aircraft spot positions of these new German gun emplacements, make things warm for the crews and possibly do great damage to the guns themselves. "Again, we have guns which are capable of replying in kind, and it would be surprising if naval and military authorities are not already taking steps to deal with what is merely a nuisance."

Nazi Propaganda Aimed at Canada

LONDON (CP)—The diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Standard, Lord Beaverbrook's afternoon newspaper, says Germany has prepared plans for intensifying on a grand scale her propaganda in the United States, designed to destroy Anglo-American resistance to Nazism and American support for Britain.

The propaganda will urge "North American union—including Canada—and political disinterest in Europe and Africa," the correspondent wrote. He says the enemy also hopes to inaugurate a "Canada for Canadians" movement, opposing Canada's continuance as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

NEW YORK (AP)—A question of proper punctuation will be put before the State Supreme Court tomorrow for a decision.

Seventeen persons, who took a clerkship examination, contend they failed to pass by one point because the civil service commission ruled they had improperly put an interrogation point at the end of this sentence:

Minesweeper Job No Bed of Roses

LONDON (CP)—The crew of the minesweeping trawler Rinovia is pretty cocky. An Admiralty communiqué reported they shot down a German raider, thereby achieving the highest ambition of the small vessels which patrol the seas to keep Britain's ocean highways clear of mines and her harbors open to the world's commerce.

When the Rinovia's guns brought down the Nazi plane it was sweet revenge for all the strafing and bombing the minesweepers suffered at the hands of German airmen.

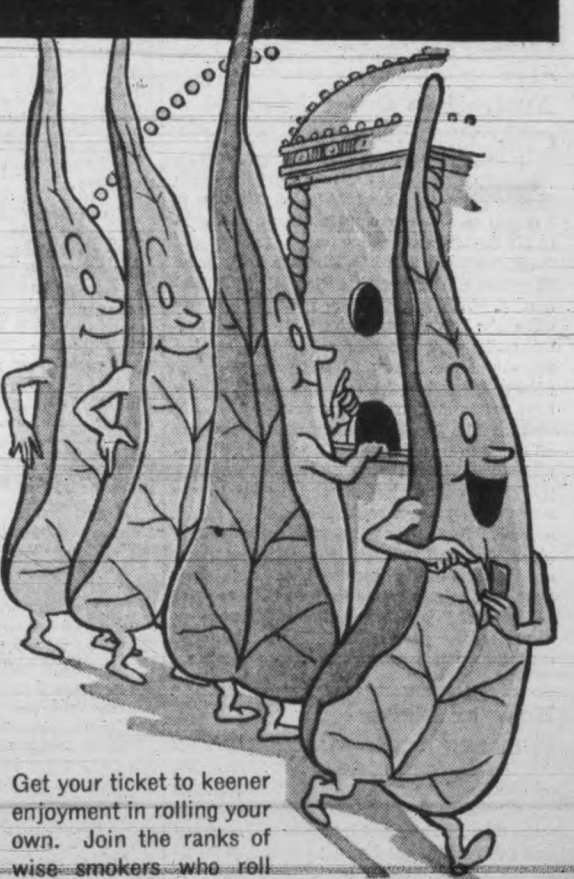

Here, from the log of another minesweeper, is an idea of what a typical day at sea involves:

1 a.m.—Enemy bomber appeared from starboard. Dropped five or six bombs, some of which fell between two ships. Opened fire on the plane and compelled him to withdraw.

11 a.m.—Another enemy aircraft sighted at 4,000 feet. No bombs dropped.

1 p.m.—Enemy bombers circle around at 6,000 feet. Bombers got into position and released five or six bombs which fell fairly close and some splinters damaged our float.

Zero Hour Approaching?

ONE OR TWO BRITISH EXPERTS ARE of the opinion that the increasing fury of Germany's aerial attacks on the British Isles does not necessarily mean the zero hour for the much-vaunted and intensively publicized "Blitzkrieg" is imminent. They contend the enemy can afford to throw into these preliminary attacks at least 1,000 planes a day, the object presumably being an attempt to reduce British aerial resistance to a point at which the Nazi high command may consider the landing of troops a fair risk—an undertaking, of course, which will be almost welcomed by the defenders in their island fortress. But Goering's flying squadrons will require to score much more heavily than they have to date before this form of blockade can be deemed as serious as that effected by intensified submarine warfare in 1917. It would be foolish, nevertheless, to underestimate the tactics which yet may be employed to save Hitler's "face" with his own people. August 15 was the date set for the subjugation of Great Britain. He must revise his timetable.

If we knew how many fighting aircraft of all categories Germany possessed, how many she is able to turn out each week, and what manpower she can command, experts might be able to give us a fair estimate of the length of time that must elapse before she is seriously handicapped by the present daily toll. Without indulging in futile speculation or dangerous optimism, it has been definitely established that Goering's much-advertised air arm is losing three machines to every British plane destroyed, with a six-to-one ratio in personnel—the latter, perhaps, the most serious handicap for the enemy. Britain's immediate problem is not the production of men to man the planes, but one of accelerating the output of machines to give her at least parity with Germany and Italy combined, and, after that, sufficient numerical superiority to enable her to take the war more actively into the camp of the tyrants.

While we have more or less detailed accounts of the damage done in Britain, we receive only the sketchiest reports of the enormous destruction which obviously is being caused in Germany by the nightly and daily raids of the Royal Air Force. This is a phase of the war, moreover, to which the oligarchy in Berlin cannot blind the people of the Reich. Those in the whole Westphalian region, with its heavy industries of all types, know by this time what war in the air really means. If British fighters continue to score substantial successes there, and if, by the same token, the propaganda disseminated by the Herr Doktor Goebbels persists in telling them that Britain already is on her knees, the present diversion gaining momentum on the main battlefield may have to be developed into one bold throw for a knockout.

Australia's Great Loss

ONLY TWO MONTHS AGO, HON. NORMAN ROGERS, at the time he was Canada's Minister of National Defence, met his death in an airplane accident while on his way to Toronto to deliver a speech on the activities of his department. Now comes the sad news from Australia that her Minister of Defence, Brigadier G. A. Street, together with Air Minister J. V. Fairbairn—who took part in the discussions in Ottawa prior to the announcement of the details of the Empire Training plan—and Sir Henry Gullett, vice-president of the Executive Council, and seven others have met a similarly tragic fate.

Like Mr. Rogers, these brilliant servants of the southern Dominion were doing magnificent work in the great task which Australia has set for herself and, in the fullest sense of the term, met their end on active service. From all the people of this Dominion will go out heartfelt sympathy with the sister nation in the southern seas in this dark hour. It is not for us to speculate on the vagaries of fate. Ours is the duty to "carry on" no matter what betide. These additional casualties will be avenged.

Now or Never

WE ARE NOT TOLD WHAT THE DOMINION government, the United States government, and the government of this province are thinking about the Alaska Highway plan these days. The joint international commission has accumulated a vast amount of information which presumably already is in the possession of the authorities at Ottawa and Washington. When war broke out, investigations into routes, engineering and financial considerations were taking a normal and unhurried course. Nor was there any need for undue haste; it was admitted here and in the neighboring republic that the dividends this highway would return from tourist travel alone would, before many years had passed, do a long way toward meeting the bill for its original cost and annual upkeep. Nor at that time did it appear likely that the military aspects of the project would be so soon emphasized by the shadow of a conflict the implications of which persist and perplex us.

British Columbia's government is more definitely concerned with and interested in this important proposal at this stage than at any time since it began to attract widespread attention in this country, in the United States, and even in the correspondence columns of The Times of London. To its discussion in the British press more than a year and a half ago, incidentally, Sir Evelyn Wrench, chairman of the Spectator, contributed useful arguments in support of the highway's construction, even going so far as to suggest the British government loan the money for 50 years at a nominal rate of interest. In his view, and it is a view to which the progress of tragic events has brought new emphasis, participation in the project by the British government should be treated as an investment in the general scheme of Empire defence.

In any event, the one fact which now stands out in relief from every other consideration is the vital importance of a first-class highway from the State of Washington, through British Columbia, to Alaska. Our neighbor already has undertaken expenditures in that northern part of the Union which would have required even more than the almost unmatched persuasiveness of President Roosevelt to obtain the approval of Congress six months ago. Our own Canadian budget, too, is being added to in astronomical figures—and the end is by no means in sight. In view of all the circumstances, known and prognosticated, therefore, the immediate present would seem to be the time for the government of this province to take up the matter of the Alaska Highway, not only because it always has been convinced of its economic soundness, but also for the still more important and even more obvious reason that it is a military necessity—that is, if this part of the continent is to be prepared against unpredictable eventualities.

Hon. Gordon Wismer's internal security plans, incidentally, are part and parcel of British Columbia's defence program. Here is his golden opportunity to suggest to his colleagues that the new world situation demands heroic measures to meet it—and especially this the case with Canada's vulnerable Pacific Coast province. It is to be hoped, moreover, the Dominion government will set the pace in negotiations with Washington for a comprehensive plan for the joint defence of the two English-speaking nations of this hemisphere.

What of the Balkans?

RUSSIA'S CONTROLLED PRESS HAS made it clear today that the Soviet government warmly approves Bulgaria's territorial demands on Rumania—the return of southern Dobruja. Britain voiced similar sentiments several days ago. Hungary and King Carol's government are still haggling over how much or how little of Transylvania will satisfy the authorities at Budapest. Italy is waging a newspaper "Blitzkrieg" on Greece, which may mean little or much, depending on the attitude of those in control at Athens. If Italy applies the technique the Nazi partner of the Rome-Berlin axis has found successful, either Greece will be forced into the totalitarian orbit, or she may fight. In the latter event, of course, Turkey would have to decide her course.

Watching the Balkan scene more closely, perhaps, than any other government is the hierarchy in Berlin. Russia's Molotov, it will be recalled, suggested in his speech the other day that it was little use his country trying to be friendly with Britain. This was taken to mean that the mission of British Ambassador Sir Stafford Cripps—to try to detach Moscow from Berlin—had failed. This may or may not be so. But the fact remains that Germany is not happy about the state of affairs in southeastern Europe. This part of the world is worth watching.

The nature of people continues the same over the centuries. "We don't think there's any emergency," said the lookers-on to Noah, that time.

An Okanagan apple crop of 6,434,498 boxes is estimated for this season. This will be the first year the crop has gone over the 6,000,000 mark. The estimate represents an increase of 900,000 boxes over last year. It means for every person in Canada half a box of McIntosh Reds or other varieties for which interior British Columbia is famed. With the export markets closed, Canadians are going to be in for still more apple eating and juice drinking, if the crop is not to be wasted.

STATISTICS SAY PROSPERITY

From B.C. Financial News
If you believe in figures, we in Canada are out of depression, and are rapidly getting out of "normalcy" into prosperity. Industrial indices are high and the story they tell is one of greatly increased general activity, mainly due to the stimulus of war orders and business swung to Canada by European invasions and blockade.

British Columbia and the prairie provinces are perhaps less conscious of the industrial pick-up than the truly industrialized section of Canada, but even in the West it must be admitted that greater activity has been coming into first one then another industrial division and the result is an accumulation of factors which inter-act to produce something like a boom. "Activity" is a better word to describe the condition than is "prosperity."

In B.C. the lumber industry, mining, pulp and paper manufacture, and most secondary industries are doing well. The fishing industry is putting up a good pack, but it has some apprehensions, perhaps unwarranted, about marketing the stuff. Agriculture is doing just fairly well—not at all well if the farmer is consulted. But milk prices have moved up a little, there is a good market for all the cheese B.C. can turn out, livestock is bringing prices which should be profitable, berry and soft tree fruit prices are higher than last year, honey producers can not supply the domestic market with all it is willing to take, root crops are likely to move at a little more than last year, and flower seed and bulb growers are in a better position than for years past, due to shutting off of foreign competition.

EYELASH POLICY

THE RECORD OF MR. KING shows that he invariably waits for public opinion to form. Then, when he can see not only the whites of their eyes but the eyelashes as well, he shoots. This makes for political safety but not for speed.

At the moment public opinion in Canada is obviously crystallizing in favor of a closer military understanding with the United States. This movement is advocated by men in all parties. It has no party label. It suggests no weakening of ties with Britain but, on the contrary, would help to strengthen Britain, which also wants the co-operation of the United States. It is only common sense.

But Mr. King tells Parliament that he doesn't think this is the time to talk about an agreement with the United States. It might be misunderstood.

By whom? Not by Canadians who know that the ultimate defence of this continent rests with the United States and who have been told by Mr. King solemnly in Parliament that Canada may be attacked at any moment. Not by Americans who already have formally agreed to defend the republics of South America and who certainly would prefer to defend Canada.

But according to Mr. King's theory some persons, unnamed, might misunderstand and, therefore, we should not discuss the question. We haven't seen the whites of their eyes yet. When we see their eyelashes it will be time to begin planning, as we only began to plan properly for this war on the 10th day of last May, when the Germans went into Holland. Always a year behind schedule.

Well, the Canadian people will insist on making an arrangement with their neighbor. Public opinion will crystallize. Mr. King will move when he sees that the people's mind is made up. You cannot stop this obvious arrangement.

LAST TESTAMENT

THE ONLY LINGERING objection to it comes from people who feel that if we make an arrangement with the Americans for joint defence we shall somehow weaken Britain when, obviously, the contrary is the case: when anything which cements the Empire and the United States is the chief aim of British foreign policy.

In this connection Canadians should read the last testament of Lord Tweedsmuir, a Britisher of Britishers. In MacLean's Magazine Lord Tweedsmuir's last observations of life conclude with this: "The United States is the richest and, both actually and potentially, the most powerful state on the globe. She has much, I believe, to give to the world; indeed, to her hands is chiefly entrusted the shaping of the future. If democracy in the broadest and truest sense is to survive, it will be mainly because of her guardianship. For, with all her imperfections, she has a clearer vision than any other people of the democratic fundamentals. She is the chief exponent of a creed which I believe, on the whole, to be the best in this imperfect world."

If any Canadian had written that he would have been accused of disloyalty. Indeed, no Canadian would have thought of writing it. Few Canadians would admit it now and I am not at all sure myself that it is correct. But it was the view of a great Englishman who was not afraid to set down facts as he found them.

Even assuming it is an exaggeration; even assuming that Lord Tweedsmuir was too pro-American, it does remain true that the most powerful single democracy in the world is the United States; that without the existence of the United States and its economic power, democracy could hardly survive in the world. It could hardly be maintained by seventy-odd million white men in the British Empire against a totalitarian world.

In other words, the United States, with all its imperfections, is pretty important to the British Empire. It is pretty important to Canada, since it buys half our exports, if you don't want to put the thing on any other basis. Yet a few Canadians, not many, still regard it with antagonism and suspicion.

GOOD RECORD

NOW, MR. KING IS NOT one of these. On the contrary, whatever else may be said about his career, posterity will have to agree that no man in the history of either country has done more to create friendship and co-operation between Canada and the United States. He knows the Americans, has studied in the United States, worked and lived there, and Mr. Roosevelt calls him by his first name. No two men in such positions could work more closely together than the President and the Prime Minister.

Mr. King's judgment, then, is that nothing can be gained and something may be lost if this splendid day-by-day, informal co-operation is reduced to the terms of a treaty. This, it seems to me, is gauging the intelligence of the American and Canadian people too low. To assume that they would object to such an obvious arrangement seems to assume that they have learned nothing in the last few years.

Well, supposing Mr. King is right. Supposing this is not the time for a treaty; the necessity of military co-operation remains. It remains, according to the considered statements of Mr. King himself. It is he who told Parliament last spring that Canada might be attacked at any moment, regardless of what happened in Europe. It was he who scared the living daylights out of the House of Commons and the people who live on the Atlantic seaboard.

If Mr. King is right about that, then surely Canada and the United States must

KNIGHTS OF 1940

THE RESULTS of the first stage of the Battle for Britain must have sent a new thrill of confidence and courage through all tired and anxious hearts. In the greatest air battles of all time our boys have met the test. Man for man and plane for plane they have the Nazis beaten already. Their action of the past few days can only be described as magnificent.

I read with considerable reserve all military communiques—including our own. There are so many things those in authority cannot now tell us and so many that they won't tell us. We can take it for granted that even the British do not magnify their losses. Nor do the Nazis underestimate the number of British planes shot down. But, making all allowances for wartime license with the truth, there is no shadow of doubt that Britain's fighters of the air are doing as fine a job as Nelson's men or Drake's men did in their own day. I find this most convincingly confirmed by uncensored evidence of those who actually see the fighting and who live among those fighters day by day.

NO CHANCE AGAINST SPITFIRES

THIS AIR MAIL, for instance, brings to a neighbor this news from what is undoubtedly the hottest spot in all England: "We have had thrilling shows in the air, watching the little Spitfires chase the bombers. My! How they do sit on the bombers' tails. They don't stand a ghost of a chance once the Spitfires catch up to them. We are all so proud of our air force boys, they are doing great work." Coming from a writer with the navy tradition bred right into the marrow of the bone, that is high praise. The same letter tells something of how the ordinary people are standing up to their own ordeal in this air war. It says:

NOT AS SPELLED

From Fort William Times-Journal
Correspondent of the New York Times writes protesting against the pronunciation of the London street name, Pall Mall, as Pell Mell. He says that this is too much to inflict upon a long-suffering and docile public. But, if the writer had consulted the unabridged Webster, he would have found that the pronunciation of the name of the game, pall mall, is given as "pel-mel," so that there is good American authority for the London way of saying it. Any way, a docile public which is content to spell Chumley, Cholmondeley, might well overlook the change from pall to pell.

WELCOME REFUGEE

From Ottawa Citizen
The Nizam of Hyderabad is reported to have an income of $50,000,000 a year. The Department of National Revenue should ask the Department of Immigration to invite him to move over here.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "We have got to go now."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "mesmerize"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Havana, Hawaiian, Haitian.
4. What does the word "hideous" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with l that means "a kind of eyeglass"?

Answers

1. Omit got. Say, "We have to go now," or "We must go now."
2. Pronounce first syllable meez, not mess; accent first syllable.
3. Hawaiian. 4. Revolting; horribly ugly or discordant. "It was like a hideous dream." 5. Lorgnette.

have some plan in advance for repelling such attacks by joint action. This can be arranged only through the technical consultation of Canadian and American soldiers and naval men. To be successful, this co-operation in defence will involve the use of Canadian ports by American ships. It will involve the construction of new bases, especially one in Newfoundland.

It is inconceivable to me that the Canadian and American governments have failed to work out such details. Yet we have no word about them, no assurance from either side, not a whisper. Only the statement from Mr. King that this is no time for a treaty, and this following on the statement that Canada may be attacked at any moment.

Must we always wait until we see their eyelashes?

LIFE INSURANCE DEVELOPMENT TOLD

Life insurance underwriting on the continent has enjoyed the greatest growth of any established business in the present century, G. H. Harris, Montreal, director of public relations for the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, told Victoria life insurance underwriters at a luncheon yesterday in Spencer's.

In his address, Mr. Harris described the various phases of life insurance development—in war-time, prosperity and depression. There was a wonderful opportunity for insurance men to do a fine business at the present time, he said, provided they were able to convey to the public their need for insurance. The new taxes imposed had been used to stimulate industries for the war effort. People were working overtime and getting double pay. He urged agents to educate the public to the advantages of paying a voluntary tax—insurance—for the preservation of their homes.

At the start of the present century, Mr. Harris said, $9,000,000 in insurance had been underwritten in Canada and the United States. Twenty years later, however, the total had rocketed to $115,000,000,000. Today it was at the $120,000,000,000 mark.

The greatest period of development came during the Great War and through the influenza epidemic to 1920. During that time people on the continent became educated to the fact that life insurance had an economic value for those still living and that it was a tremendous rush for policies. In that six-year period there was a 305 per cent increase in development. The next five-year period of progress came during the years from 1924 to 1929. There was lots of money around. People were gay, carefree and on top of the world. They had more money than they needed. Many put it into insurance. The result was a 73 per cent increase in business.

The slackest period of development was in the last decade, the decade of the depression.

Chile is 2,600 miles long and only 250 miles wide at the widest.

A new glass fibre, in one year of commercial production, has been put to 565 uses.

Hospitals Give Valuable Service

With vacation season in full progress, directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital are reminded that, contrasted with the money that will be spent by citizens on hotel and automobile camp accommodation, the service rendered by the hospital, now so badly in need of funds, gives a far greater return to the public.

Public ward rates amount to $3 a day; semi-private rooms, amount to $3.50 a day, and private rooms $5 a day. These rates are equivalent to those that a vacationist would pay for ordinary hotel accommodation, which would not include meals. The hospital provides meals, nursing attention; bedside service, and maintains a multitude of medical services and equipment needed for the treatment of a patient.

Because of this fact, and because the ever-increasing demands of Victoria have made greater accommodation necessary, the directors and supporting organizations of the Royal Jubilee Hospital are urging the public to contribute to the fund that is necessary with which to complete financing of the new wing.

The public can help the hospital by making donations, by cheque or personal subscription at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, or through the Royal Trust Company, or those who are unable to make large donations can subscribe on Hospital Day through the tag boxes that will be stationed on downtown streets on August 31.

ORCHESTRA IN PARK TOMORROW

What promises to be a program of unusual popularity has been prepared for the fourth and final orchestral concert in Beacon Hill Park tomorrow evening at 8. The assisting soloists will be: Miss Winnifred Hall, soprano; Pierre Timp, baritone, and Reginald Margison.

The following is the complete program:

Overture from "Zampa," selections from "Chu Chin Chow," suite, London; "Convent Garden," "Westminster," "In Town Tonight," waltz, "Blue Danube," march, "Le Prophete" (Meyerbeer).

Miss Hall, who may be something of a newcomer to Victoria audiences, will sing: "Spring In My Heart," "I Hear You Calling Me," "A Heart That's Free," "The Last Rose of Summer," from the opera "Martha."

So many requests have been received by Mr. Prescott for the inclusion of Pierre Timp on this final program that arrangements have been made to meet these requests, and Mr. Timp will sing the following numbers: "Wish Me Luck," "Even Bravest Heart May Swell," "Who Is Sylvia," "Rolling Down to Rio."

Mr. Margison will contribute two timely and stirring numbers: "Drake Goes West" and "Captain Mac."

The orchestra will be under the direction of Alfred Prescott. This concert will conclude the series of park symphonies sponsored by the B.C. Electric Railway Company as a public entertainment feature during the holiday months.

Field Work to Get Tourists Described

A general review of the British Columbia Travel Bureau's field work was given members of the Gyro Club yesterday by W. A. McDonald, a member of the department, whose duties during summer months require him to travel through B.C. and Pacific Coast states establishing tourist contacts and distributing tourist information.

During recent trips this year Mr. McDonald, with a car equipped with 5,000 feet of colored movies and sound equipment, said he has staged 27 shows for a seated audience of 9,000 people.

He told of methods of operation in the field; how representatives of the bureau arrange speaking engagements in U.S. cities and of their contacts in transportation offices, where they answered all types of inquiries from tourist prospects.

Seventy per cent of tourists came to B.C. principally for sport fishing and hunting, Mr. McDonald said survey results showed. As far as Victoria's appeal as "a little bit of old England," he reminded his audience the visitors came here to see the people as they are naturally and not with any artificiality put on for the benefit of visitors.

Neil Grant introduced the speaker and he was thanked by Art Minnis, president.

Saanich Registration Plans

Plans for national registration in Saanich were drafted last night at a meeting of volunteer workers, deputy registrars, municipal officials, Reeve Lambriek and the council's volunteer committee.

All departments of the municipality will co-operate in the work during the three-day registration period from August 19 to 21, the municipality having been divided into 14 sections in which people of the various districts can register.

More volunteer workers are urgently needed, however, and any willing to help are requested to communicate with the municipal hall at Royal Oak. They are particularly required in the districts around Cadboro Bay, Douglas Street and Canterbury Road, Douglas Street and Marigold Road and the Gorge.

The following centres for registration have been chosen in each of the 14 sections into which the municipality has been divided: Cadboro Bay, round Douglas Street and Canterbury Road; Douglas Street and Marigold Road; Douglas Street and Marigold Road; Douglas Street and Marigold Road; Douglas Street and Marigold Road.

The municipality has been divided into the following 14 sections, where residents of Saanich must register: St. Aidan's Hall; Lake Hill Community Centre; St. Mark's Hall, Boleskine Road; Gordon Head Hall; Boy Scouts;

WHEN YOU REGISTER YOU GET THIS CERTIFICATE

National Registration is a plan to mobilize and direct our human resources—to assist Canada in the present crisis. When you register you will receive a certificate, convenient for card case or pocket—tangible evidence that you have complied with government regulations. It is not only a record for the Government, it is also for your protection. As such, you will be required to carry this card with you at all times. Its presentation can be demanded at any time by the proper authorities.

EVERYONE CAN HELP—To keep the cost of this registration at a minimum the Government is asking the co-operation of all public-minded citizens in the work of registration. You can help by getting in touch with your local registration officials and offering your services.

WHERE TO REGISTER

Registration offices are being set up by electoral districts in the same manner as in the last Dominion election. Registrars are required to register in the regular polling subdivisions of their own constituencies. But should a registrant be in some other province or district out of the regular polling subdivision on Registration Days, he or she may register at any registration office convenient, upon satisfactory explanation to the local deputy registrar.

Penalty for Non-Registration—Failure to register will make any male or female, married or single, over the age of 16 years, liable to a fine not exceeding Two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding Three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and moreover to a further penalty not exceeding Two dollars for each day after the day upon which he should have registered, during which he shall continue to be unregistered.

UNDER AUSPICES OF RED CROSS
Tune in to CFCT, 12.45, Wednesday, for Interview With Mrs. Margaret Stedman
A RECENT ARRIVAL FROM GREAT BRITAIN
AN INTERESTING AND UP-TO-DATE STORY

RED CROSS News Notes

A lace handkerchief donated by Mrs. W. A. Gurney was won by Mrs. E. G. Porter, 2804 Foul Bay Road. The sum of $100 was raised for the Red Cross.

The Red Cross Distributing Centre reports that 2,929 knitted and sewn garments and 2,600 surgical dressings were received in July from the various units of Victoria and vicinity, making a total of 23,685 garments and 15,170 surgical dressings made by voluntary Red Cross workers since the commencement of this year. Approximately 4,000 refugee garments were shipped for use overseas during July.

$8,604 FOR JUNE

Receipts by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society during July totalled $8,604.86. This does not include the net receipts of the Government House gala held on July 31, which will not be available until the August report.

Contribution paid directly to the office came to $4,087.98. Local units brought in $3,076.50, the Gordon Head unit realizing $1,856 from the garden party at Strangewood alone. Cash received from other fund-raising events totalled $864.59. This included the profits of the box lacrosse game with Burrard, $550.81, and $500 from the June account of the Superfluties Store.

Out of these receipts, together with the substantial balance brought forward from June, sums totaling $19,486.89 were paid to the provincial division. Expenses for the month were above the average, being $159.70.

Lakehill Children Plan Penny Party

"A penny saved is a penny not earned, but useful in swelling Red Cross funds." That is the motto of a dozen enterprising children of the Lake Hill district who are giving a children's penny garden party on Wednesday afternoon between 3 and 6 in the garden of Sgt.-Major and Mrs. G. W. Massey, 991 Lodge Avenue.

There will be many gay booths and sideshows, five ponies to ride, candy and novelty stalls, a shooting gallery, a 10-pin game and fish pond. Contests are planned to appeal to every child's tastes. A hand-made model airplane display will be judged by an officer from the Patricia Bay airport. He will also speak to the guests on the fascinating business of flying. For little girls there will be a contest for the best-dressed doll. It will be judged by Miss M. MacRae of the Red Cross headquarters. There will be gate prizes for adults and tea, pop and ice cream for everyone.

The children responsible for this novel garden party are Sylvia Abbott, aged 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Abbott, and Dorothy Smith, aged 14, daughter of Private and Mrs. J. Smith. Their helpers are Lorraine Johnson, tea convener; Margaret Nielson, Evelyn Black, Gladys Wallace, Joyce Maule and Doreen LeVack.

The regular meeting of the Artillery section of the Apacoe will be held for all wives of artillerymen Wednesday evening, August 14, at 8, at the home of Mrs. J. Preston, Barton Road.

TRY A LITTLE "MAKE-UP"

When you have a homely meat pie AN EXTRA TOUCH of flavour can change the homeliest meat pie into a most delectable dish for luncheon or supper. Give your own pies this flavour appeal by adding a spoonful or so of H. P. Sauce to the meat just before you pop on the top crust. You'll have the grandest flavour in your pie and everyone will thoroughly enjoy it. Many other dishes besides meat pies need a little making up in flavour in order to lift them above the commonplace. This is where H. P. Sauce can be of valuable service to you. Use this thick, fruity sauce from England in your cooking. Serve it with meats, fish, fowl, macaroni and cheese dishes and many other foods.

On Hand Wanted... a Handy-Man

"Roy is sunny and helpful by nature," says his mother, "but while a sluggish system was dragging on him like a ball and chain he couldn't stay that way!" No indeed! This "ball and chain" feeling is distressing. And often it's due to insufficient bulk in the diet.

Post's Bran Flakes help to prevent this trouble. They provide enough natural bulk in the form of bran to keep food wastes moving promptly. "Now that Roy eats Post's Bran Flakes regularly," says mother, "my happy handy-man is back again." "They taste just swell," adds Roy—"no more 'ball and chain' feeling for me!"

HELP keep your family free from the effects of faulty elimination by serving Post's Bran Flakes regularly. They are so appetizing—so convenient. If this does not readily relieve constipation due to lack of bulk it's time to consult a physician.

MISS LETTY CULLITON

MR. B. S. H. TYE

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Culliton of Seattle announce the engagement of their daughter, Letty Beatrice, to B. S. H. (Tommy) Tye of Victoria, son of T. Beauchamp Tye of Sproat Lake and grandson of Mrs. Hickman Tye of this city. The wedding will take place quietly in Seattle on Saturday, August 17.

Weddings

McMASTER—DOUGLAS
At a quiet ceremony at the First United Church on August 7, Rev. Thomas Menzies united in marriage Nora Stevenson, eldest daughter of Mrs. Agnes Douglas and the late Mr. N. A. Douglas of Regina, and Alfransman John S. McMaster, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. McMaster, Regina. The bride, who wore a street-length dress of mauve crepe de chine with short jacket of the same shade, and white turban and accessories, was attended by Mrs. John Van Alstine of Regina. Mr. Gordon Atkinson of Regina was the best man. The couple will reside in Victoria.

GORDON-HOLMES—COOKE
Wearing as her only ornament a blue enamel cross on a gold chain which had been her mother's, Susan Felicity, younger daughter of Major J. C. Cooke, D.S.O., M.C., of "Grantford," Sooke, and the late Mrs. Cooke, became the bride of Mr. Philip Gordon-Holmes, 17th Searchlight Battery, R.C.A., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gordon-Holmes, Admirals Road, Saturday afternoon at the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The bridesmaid was Miss Betty Reid of Seattle, wearing a wisteria blue net and lace frock, made with short sleeves, and tiny ribbon bows marked the front opening. She wore a wreath of matching flowers in her hair and carried a sheaf of scabious, sweet sultan and gypsophila in shades of wisteria blue and pale yellow.

Mr. John Aldous was the best man. During the signing of the register, "O Worship the King" was sung.

A reception for relatives and a few intimate friends was held later at the home of Mrs. M. M. Beasley, Beach Drive. Assisting in welcoming the guests was the bridegroom's mother, who wore a pale blue ensemble with a cream-colored picture hat and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds; Miss Philippa Cooke, sister of the bride, wearing a turquoise blue printed silk frock, with a black hat trimmed with white ribbon, and Mrs. Beasley, whose white dress was worn with a little black silk jacket.

When she left on her wedding trip, Mrs. Gordon-Holmes wore a chic black suit, with turquoise blue blouse and a black hat, with blue dotted veil. They will make their home in Victoria.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Edward McQuade, Rockland Avenue, is the guest in Vancouver of Mrs. John O'Driscoll.

Mrs. W. B. Montell, who has been spending the last month at the Shawanigan Beach Hotel, has returned to her home in Fairfield Road.

After spending the last few months in Vancouver, Mrs. Lennox Irving has returned to her home in Victoria, and is again occupying her home on Foul Bay Road.

Three generations met at a family reunion yesterday, at the home of Captain and Mrs. George Harrison, North Quadra and Rogers Streets. Visiting from Saskatoon, Sask., were Mrs. Harrison's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs; her sister, Mrs. W. Grummett; and the latter's two daughters: Mrs. J. Ball and Miss Bobbie Grummett. Also present was Leading Seaman J. Ball, R.C.N., the husband of Mrs. Ball, who is on service here. The prairie visitors are spending a three-week holiday in Victoria.

Mrs. Wilfred Kendall recently entertained informally at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Kettle, Nell Street, at a surprise party given in honor of Miss Dorothy Haggart, whose marriage to Mr. John MacIvor takes place this month. During the evening Miss Haggart was presented with a lovely corsage bouquet of deep pink carnations and a waffle iron. Games were enjoyed and prizes were won by Miss Ellen Leask, first; Miss Elsie Dods-worth, second, and Mrs. J. Rob-lillard, consolation. A buffet supper was served later. The guests were Mesdames J. Leask, B. Deakin, J. Robillard, W. A. Kettle, and Misses Barbara Laird, Ruth Wilson, Beulah Wilson, Ruth Pearce, Ellen Leask, Doris Watson, Elsie Dods-worth and May Buckingham.

In honor of Miss Patricia Ham-blett, who is leaving shortly to be married in South Africa, a miscellaneous shower was given by Miss Gertrude Boorman and Miss Beryl Whitehead at the former's home on the West Saanich Road, Monday evening. As the bride-to-be entered the room Miss Marjorie Boorman played the "Bridal Chorus," and the guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. A pink and white umbrella with a shower of cel-lophane falling from it concealed the many pretty gifts. Contests were enjoyed, the winners being Miss Lois Hamblett and Miss Eva Phillips. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a vase of pink and white stocks and lighted pink tapers in brass candlesticks. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. Boorman, Miss Winnifred Whitehead and Miss Marjorie Boorman. The guests present were the Misses Patricia and Lois Hamblett, Jennifer Hobbs, Eva and Helen Phillips, Marjorie Boorman, Winnifred Whitehead, and Mesdames K. Mead-Robins, G. W. Pettit, W. Thorpe, D. W. Phillips, K. Foster, A. P. Hobbs, F. Cariss and C. Whitehead.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Warren Smith, Harrison Street, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage yesterday and in the evening entertained at a bridge party. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married in Vancouver 25 years ago. They have one son, Mr. Donald Smith, and two daughters, the Misses Margaret and Patsy. Many letters, telegrams and greeting cards were received from relatives and friends in Victoria and on the mainland, and a beautiful silver tea service was the family's gift. A bouquet of flowers was sent by the members of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., of which Mrs. Smith is a valued member. After bridge, supper was served from a table beautifully arranged with a lace cloth, and centred by a mauve bowl of pink carnations and mauve scabiosa. A profusion of lovely flowers decorated the reception rooms. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Maynard, Mr. and Mrs. W. Putt, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lane, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hockley, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Elford, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ryley, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bishop, Mrs. W. E. Cook, Mrs. A. Russell and Mrs. A. H. Dodd.

MAGAZINES FOR SERVICES
A special appeal has been issued for magazines of detective or western tales or short stories to be distributed to canteens of the army, navy and air force by the I.O.D.E. Anyone wishing to help in this urgent need may call Mrs. J. Quinn, G. 3538, municipal convener, any day after 4. Mrs. Quinn will arrange for the magazines to be picked up or contributions may be left at Mad Rimmer's Beauty Parlor, opposite the Royal Dairy.

The planet Jupiter is bigger and heavier than all the other planets rolled into one.

Miss Margot Greer of Victoria and Mrs. Nicholas Zaro of New York shared honors Sunday afternoon when Miss Margaret Watson entertained at her Vancouver home. Among the Victoria guests were Lieut. and Mrs. R. Mitchell, Miss Allen Swayze, Capt. Ridgeway-Wilson, Lieut. Surgeon R. Swan and Lieut. C. Elmsley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kilby, Glas-gow Avenue, returned yesterday from Banff, where they attended the marriage of their youngest daughter, Olive Thelma, to Mr. Lawrence Mudryk, son of Mr. Mudryk of Saskatoon, which took place August 5 at the Banff United Church, Rev. T. H. Lons-dale officiating. The bride and bridegroom are making their home in Banff.

Mrs. J. Watson entertained in honor of the 19th birthday of her son, Roy. The evening was spent in games and dancing. Refresh-ments were served from a lace-covered table, centred with carna-tions and sweet peas. The invited guests being Mr. and Mrs. W. Pol-lard, Mesdames Du Bois, Hill, Bird, Downs, Williams, the Misses Ward, Pollard, Swift, Downs, Morton, Bradbury, Messrs. Hill, Crawford, E. and S. Downs, Bird, Swift, Mikajou, John, G. Watson.

Ruth and Peter Griffith, chil-dren of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Griffith, Harley Street, London, have arrived in Victoria from Eng-land to be the guests of their cousin, Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, Granite Street, for the duration of the war. The children were accompanied by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Griffith, who are spending a few days at The Angela before returning to their home in Winnipeg.

Among the guests at the Shawanigan Beach Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. de Vry, Seattle; Miss Beatrice D. Pilon, Miss Margot Bergstrom, Vancouver; Mr. W. M. Paterson, Victoria; Mr. E. Potter, Duncan; Mrs. M. Wilson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lock, Shanghai; Miss and Master Foster Hall, England; Miss M. Partridge, Miss G. Ste-wart, Vancouver; Mr. Bill Walker, Victoria; Mr. R. B. McKean, Vic-toria; Capt. Arthur Shewell, Hollywood, Calif.; Mr. Desmond McCabe, Victoria; Mr. David Thorn, Chicago; Mrs. C. M. Forrest, Victoria; Mrs. F. E. Eaton, Vancouver; Mrs. Shea Stearns, Mrs. E. O. G. Kerivan, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. James S. Bancroft, Piedmont, Calif.; Mr. John R. Gillespie, Victoria.

Mrs. E. McMillan and Mrs. J. E. Pugh were joint hostesses re-cently at a shower given at the home of the latter in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martindale, formerly Marjorie Durrell. Games were played, and gifts of china and groceries were presented. Mr. Orval Bond presented the bride with a corsage. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bond, while consolation prize went to Mrs. W. Martindale and Mr. O. Bond. Those present were: Mrs. E. Durrell, Mrs. L. E. Bond, Mrs. H. McLaughlin, Mrs. E. W. Grif-fin, Mr. and Mrs. O. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. P. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. E. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mar-tindale, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pugh, Miss Doris Huffman, Miss Carol Bond, Mr. Doug Bourne, Jack Durrell and Baby Betty Bond and Dona McLaughlin.

CELEBRATE TWO ANNIVERSARIES

Receiving over 75 guests at their home on 2817 Dysart Avenue, which resembled a bower of flowers from gifts sent them from their well-wishers, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Christianson on Sun-day afternoon celebrated two im-portant anniversaries. Sixty years ago they were married in Iceland. It was also Mr. Chris-tianson's eightieth birthday.

Friends were received from 3 to 6, and were served refresh-ments at a table decorated with a fine lace table cloth, over 150 years old, made by hand by Mrs. Christianson's mother in Iceland. Assisting them in entertaining their guests were their two daughters: Mrs. Fred Turgoose, of Parksville, one of their family of five children, who was born in Iceland; and Miss Jane Christianson, who lives at the family home. There are also three grand-children: Mr. William Turgoose and Mr. Peter Turgoose, living in Victoria; and Mrs. Brethour, liv-ing at Sidney, and a great-grand-daughter, Caroline May Brethour.

Mr. and Mrs. Christianson were childhood sweethearts, although Mrs. Christianson is five years her husband's senior, her birthday be-ing June 22, 1855. They came to Canada from Iceland in 1887, set-tling first at Winnipeg, but three years later moved to Victoria. Mr. Christianson, who has worked at cement work nearly ever since he came here, is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Wives Leave Husbands

BALTIMORE (AP)—Twenty-six Baltimore wives, who trip away on a no-husbands-allowed vacation each summer, were en-terained at Miami today. It was the group's 15th year of vacation-away-from-husband. The latter bunched on the station platform, handkerchiefs to eyes in mock sadness. As the train pulled away they broke into song—"My Wife's Gone to the Country—Hooryay."

A GRATEFUL LOCAL MAN PRAISES MOSBY'S TONIC SAYS IT IS "SPLENDID"

"I Feel Better Now Than in Years," Says Mr. Alec McLeod, of Mason St., a Well-known Resident of This Vicinity—Had Gassy Bloating, Wornout Feelings, Constipation, Before He Found Mosby's Tonic.

"Mosby's Tonic Was What I Always Needed. It Certainly Relieved My Gassy, Upset Stomach, Says Mr. Alec McLeod, of 1145 Mason Street, Victoria. Read His Sincere Statement.

Seldom in history, say some of the leading druggists of this city, has any medicine been so widely endorsed as has MOSBY'S TONIC. This is a New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents, now being introduced to the public daily here in Victoria at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Sts. All over Victoria and throughout Canada, people are praising this Splendid Compound and are saying, "I never SAW anything like Mosby's Tonic. It certainly gave me relief and I want others to know it!" For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. Alec McLeod, of 1145 Mason St., Victoria, made the following statement. Mr. McLeod has lived in this city 18 years with friends throughout the entire vicinity. Read his Sincere Endorsement of Mosby's Tonic which follows:

Felt Weak and Sluggish Due to Stomach Gas

"I just feel so grateful to Mosby's Tonic after what it did for me that I want to give you my statement and endorse it to others who suffer like I did," said Mr. McLeod. "For a long time I had been a victim of gassy indigestion and bloating spells after my meals and due to this gassy, bloated stomach condition I couldn't get the proper good out of my food and finally lost so much strength that I felt weak and rundown all the time. Just seemed like my strength and energy had left me. Was also troubled badly with bowel constipation.

Now Feels Better Than in Years!

"I tried in many ways to get

LONDON (CP)—The War Office said that "reports appearing in some foreign newspapers exaggerate the effect of recent air raids on Gibraltar."

"The truth is that the damage relief from this suffering, but it seemed of no use, as nothing helped me. Then recently I found Mosby's Tonic and started taking it. And I want to say that it simply turned out to be what I Always Needed. It relieved my gassy indigestion and bloating and now my meals digest better and I get more good out of my food and have more energy than at any time in years. Will say also that this medicine is splendid for a person's bowels and now they are regulated just fine. I think it is truly splendid to find a medicine to help me so much after the long time I suffered and, as I said in the first place, I feel so grateful to Mosby's Tonic that I gladly give you my statement and endorse it to others who suffer like I did."

20 Ingredients in This New Herbal Compound

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 ingredients, including 15 Roots and Herbs. It invigorates bowels, stomach, liver and kidney action as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic, so that daily people write us they feel different all over. The price of this New Compound is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic TODAY!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at the CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Sts., and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Moon and Earth Once United

In his lecture, "The Moon, Our Nearest Neighbor," P. H. Hughes, at Victoria College last night, told of the close relationship between this heavenly body and our own planet the earth.

Mr. Hughes gave to the students the theory that once the earth and the moon were one part in a huge gaseous cloud, and that as this cloud cooled the parts forming the two bodies separated. Probably, he said, the earth being the larger of the two, robbed the moon of all its atmosphere, explaining why this satellite had no life.

The earth and the moon traveled together around the sun, the latter changing its position at intervals in relation to the earth, never coming nearer than 222,000 miles nor retreating farther than 252,000 miles, the speaker said.

He added that seven eclipses were the maximum for any one year, and explained diagrammatically why the sun was eclipsed more often than the moon. Continuing with his chalk diagrams, Mr. Hughes also showed to the 100 attending students why the summer full moon was lower in the sky than the full moon at other seasons.

Ending his speech, he imparted a few interesting facts. The earth, he said, gave off 14 times more light than the moon, while the sun radiated 600,000 times more than the small satellite. Contrary to popular belief, the moon did not affect our weather, but it did have a strong influence on the tides.

Mr. Hughes concluded his lecture by showing lantern slides of the moon in different phases. Dr. K. O. Wright gave a short talk on the constellations Aquila, Delphinus and Lagitta. After this the students retired outside the building to view the moon through small telescopes generously loaned by some members of the society.

Robert Peters, president of the Victoria centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, presiding at the meeting, asked for a vote of thanks to be tendered to the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory for the time they spent last Monday in enlightening the star students on many phases of astronomy.

GRACIE AT BANFF

BANFF—Gracie Fields, English comedienne, captured the hearts of more than 600 American guests of this resort and visitors from the Banff district, and added an estimated sum of more than $1,200 to the funds of the Navy League of Canada at a concert last night in the ballroom of the Banff Springs Hotel. Assisting artists at the concert were the Toronto trio of Murray Adaskin, Cornelius Yesseltyn and Louis Crerar, Frances James, the well known Canadian soprano; Erice Tredwell, Canadian baritone, and Mart Kenney and his Western Gentlemen. Harry Parr Davies accompanied Miss Fields at the piano.

Fight Tonight

Conn Remains Slim Choice

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

NEW YORK fight fans will sit in on another heavyweight show, tonight when Billy Conn, king of the light-heavyweights, steps into the ring at Polo Grounds against Bob Pastor, made famous by his famous "bi-cycle act" against champion Joe Louis. The winner has been promised a title go with Louis in September. It looks like Mike Jacobs, the promoter, and Louis, the fighter, finally have reached a point where they may have to call the whole thing off.

Jacobs announced recently plans for a Louis-Max Baer showing again in New York but has been called off. Baer had been promised a return bout with the Negro if he whipped Tony Galento. Reports have it that Baer didn't want any more of Louis and that New York wouldn't stand for it. Chicagoans resented an attempt to park a secondary affair in their midst. San Francisco was not interested. But don't be surprised if Baer still gets his chance and right in New York. Maxie is pretty tough to talk to financially and Jacobs may be trying a little bluffing.

Then again Conn must get over Pastor. More than one competent judge doubts Conn's ability to do that. Pastor is more formidable than most people imagine. Anything might have happened in Detroit a year ago had not Louis clipped the former New York University back right under the gun. In surviving three first-round knockdowns, and coming on to stir up trouble before being belted out in the 11th, Pastor showed courage worthy of a finer setting. In Pastor, Conn is tackling something more than a Mello Bettina, Gus Lesnevich, Gus Dorazio or Henry Cooper. He is facing a speed burner as cagey as himself.

Also, Conn is still having trouble putting on weight. He will tip not much over 175 tonight. For months Billy has been trying to push the scales to 180. The Pittsburgh boy was a big disappointment in his second fight with Lesnevich. Exactly nothing happened when Conn slapped the slow-moving, slow-thinking Lesnevich all over the place in a blazing final round that saved the show. And anybody who can't belt a bit has no business marching front and center with Louis, especially when he is conceding the heavyweight champion 20 pounds or more. Twice defeated... knocked out, Bob Pastor could not very well be sent against Louis a third time. It would be a mistake not to allow Conn another year in which to grow into Louis' size and get a little power in his pokes.

Conn says he is through with the light-heavyweight division regardless of the outcome of tonight's scrap. Conn is taking seriously something Tommy Loughran said, which was that Billy shouldn't make the mistake he (Tommy) did in hanging onto the 175-pound title. Loughran probably could have done what Gene Tunney did to Jack Dempsey in their first 10-round scrap in Philadelphia.

CUBS AND NAVY PLAY TONIGHT

Second division baseball clubs, Tillamook Cubs and Navy, will play last Thursday's 2 to 2 draw in Humphrey Cup play-offs, this evening at Beacon Hill Park at 6:15.

If sailors win they will meet Eagles, last year's champs, in the finals. If Cubs win, a third and final game will be played Thursday.

Eagles beat Cedar Hill Athletics two straight games to draw a berth in the finals.

If the preliminary round finishes tonight the finals will start Thursday at Beacon Hill.

This week at the Colwood club the granddaddies of Pacific Northwest golf are gathered for their 18th annual tournament. From many points in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon have come veterans to seek links laurels. Those in the above picture from left to right are: back row, R. J. Martin, Spokane; H. C. Morris, Victoria; W. H. Horner, Seattle; C. Stanier, Victoria; W. C. McCulloch, Portland; A. E. Mackay, Portland; G. G. Jones, Portland; and R. H. Lyons, Victoria; front row, Phil Taylor, assistant starter; J. G. Matthews, Spokane; W. B. Burns, Tacoma; T. H. Coffin, Portland; and D. H. Fisher, Seattle.

Muzz Patrick Plays Tonight

When Coach Gus Munroe's Jokers step out on to the box floor tonight at the Willows Sports Centre to oppose Ted Menzies' James Bay stickwielders in a senior duel, Murray (Muzz) Patrick, scrappy member of the New York Rangers Hockey Club, will be one of the lads wearing the black uniform.

Muzz arrived back home from New York last week via the airlines and his first act was to sign up for some box action with the Jokers, of which his brother, Lynn, is one of the mainstays. Muzz has not played the game before, but feels that it won't be long before he gets the hang of it. He was out for his first workout with a webbed stick on Sunday. When he becomes fairly well acquainted with the game the Patrick-Patrick combination should provide a peek of trouble for opposition units.

James Bay trails Alert Service by two points and if they check it, with a win tonight the two squads will be back in a deadlock again for first place. Tonight's program will open at 7 with Owl Drug and Douglas Tire, juniors, meeting. Main game will start at 8:30. Douglas Tire line-up: Thomas, Carter, Sage, Ball, Fellow, Travis, Smith, Scott, Simpson, Sage, Ford, Anderson, Knowles and Estridge.

Guldahl After Canadian Title

TORONTO (CP)—Let the golfing fans favor him with a "hot" putter for the rest of this week and Ralph Guldahl, the hefty Chicago professional, believes he has as good a chance as any to take this year's Canadian open golf title.

Guldahl has a hunch that possibly his time has come to "pick up the marbles" after being runner-up twice in the six times that he has attempted to lift the national title. If only that putter will behave then "everything will be all right."

"For about a year now I've been having trouble with my putting," he said yesterday. "Gosh, I used to practice sometimes until the moon was in the sky and it still didn't seem to be doing me any good. Then, suddenly, I seemed to find the touch last week. I'm pretty sure I've straightened it out now."

By finding the touch, Guldahl referred to the fact that a week ago he won the Milwaukee open with a par-shattering total of 268 strokes in 128 holes. Guldahl, 36, also out to tune up over Scarborough's rolling fairways and well-guarded greens were the veteran Paul Runyan and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the latter winner of the title last year at Saint John, N.B. The tourney will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

BOXING

PHILADELPHIA—Milt Aron, 130, Chicago, and Mike Kaplan, 147, Boston, drew 100-100 in a 10-round fight. Los Angeles stopped Paul Junior, 138, Lewis, Me. (5). SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy Carlson, 110½, Kansas City, outpointed Carlos Miranda, 142½, Los Angeles (10).

Lopez Sparkplug

Leads Pirate Drive

He's listed in the box score as a catcher, but Al Lopez's Pittsburgh Pirates mates all call him "Winning Pitcher Al" and they point to him as the sparkplug in baseball's most sensational winning drive.

The Bucs, who have known the dreags of last place but are now only a game and a half behind the third-place New York Giants, were paced to their 20th win in their last 25 starts last night by Lopez—a 4 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and Bucky Walters.

The experts, digging into the Pirate performance, have come up with this excellent answer to the whys and wherefores of that success: It's Lopez's handling of the pitchers—young Ken Heintzelman, John Lanning, Dick Lannahan and Rip Sewell—that has made the Bucs the hottest club in the big leagues.

Lopez modestly credits the team's fielding as the reason for the upswing. Manager Frankie Frisch says its because the club "is hustling and getting the breaks." But the ball players, who ought to know, thank Al for their inspiration.

Last night, for instance, Al scored the first Pirate run in the sixth inning, which he opened with a single. He singled Frankie Gustine home with another in the seventh after the young second sacker had personally pounded Elbie Fletcher home to the great delight of 42,254 fans, who incidentally brought the attendance for seven-night games to 167,930.

Big Max Butcher had the Reds in control all the way, parcelling out only nine hits, including a four-bagger by Snozz Lombardi.

20 FOR FELLER

Meanwhile the Cleveland Indians whacked out 12 hits, including three homers, to hand Master Bobby Feller his 20th victory of the year and take undisputed possession of first place in the American League with an 8 to 5 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Feller held the Bengals to seven blows and brought his strike-out total for the year to 197 with seven. Bobby was in trouble in the seventh when he walked three men in a row and the Tigers capitalized on it and scored three runs.

In the only other major league game, Jimmy Webb doubled in the ninth to score Bob Kennedy and give the Chicago White Sox a 6 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a night game in St. Louis. The Sox left 17 men stranded, one short of the league record.

COAST LEAGUE

With five weeks to go and the Coast League pennant all but slipping over the Seattle club house, this week's series may point to the other three likely starters in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Los Angeles, playing spider to Portland's fly in Wrigley Field, stands to profit most handsomely. Portland is the only club that can be relied strictly out of the $12,000 playoffs.

The Angels have had two brief tastes of second place in recent weeks and liked them. Without opposition more serious than the circuit's whipping boys, the Angel clouters could possibly move into

Adanacs Gain Lacrosse Lead

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The Canadian champion New Westminster Adanacs waited until the last quarters before staging a whirlwind drive in an Inter-city Box Lacrosse League game last night that sent them into first place.

The Yellowshirts downed Salmonbellies, their intra-city rivals, 25 to 23 here—netting 9 goals to the Fishmen's 4 in the final stanza.

The win gives them 31 points, one more than Vancouver Burrards and 4 more than the third-place Richmond Farmers.

Ken Matheson took the hero role for the game when he sank the tying counter at 21 to 21 and sent Adanacs into a one-point lead seconds later. They never lost the lead afterwards.

Salmonbellies marched into an 8 to 4 lead in the first quarter, and at half time were ahead 13 to 10. Each sank 6 goals in the third quarter.

Bob Phelan was top scorer for the champions with 5 goals and 3 assists, while Matheson had 4 and 2. Star of the Salmonbellies' squad was Ralph Burton with 4 goals and 2 assists.

Spencer's Cardinals moved a step nearer the 1940 city pennant and British Columbia softball championships with an 8 to 7 triumph over Hunt's Garage at Central Park last night.

It was a sudden-death game between last year's champs managed by Jack Taylor and the garage girls to decide which team will meet Unitys, league winners, in the pennant series. Winner of that series will represent the city in the provincial playoffs.

Last night's fixture saw Cards take a 4 to 0 lead in the first four innings, scoring two runs in the third and two in the fourth. Garage girls scored one run in the fifth and four in the sixth, to take over the lead by one run.

Cards came back strong and scored three runs in the eighth and another in the ninth. Hunt's two runs in the last of the ninth were not enough.

Batteries for the game were: Cards—I. Milliken and M. Milliken; Hunts, Marshall and Jones.

OLD BOYS WIN
In a Poodle Dog Cafe Cup game at Upper Central Park, senior A club, Brunson's Veterans beat the Times 8 to 5.

Four runs in the second inning paved the way for the old boys' win. They held a lead throughout.

Bryant checked for the Times with Perkins receiving and Bridger worked from the mound for Brunson's, with Baker behind the plate.

Take First Four Places In Qualifier

Visiting players carried off the lion's share of the honors in the qualifying round of the 18th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament at the Colwood Club yesterday, taking the first four places. J. P. Loudon, Yakima, playing in his first tourney, was medalist with a well-played 74.

Runner-up with a 77 was E. L. Skeel of Seattle, while third place went to W. G. Fovargue of Aberdeen with a 78. N. McFarlane of Comox set the pace for the Canadian contingent by finishing fourth with a 79. Fifth place was shared by Hon. John Hart of Victoria, a two-time holder of the grand championship, and Paul Glaser of Seattle, each with an 81.

Although the opening day featured bright sunshine, the veterans were bothered by the high wind, and, as a result, some of the scores were unusually high.

To finish only four strokes off par, Loudon was out in 36, just one stroke over perfect figures, and broke in 38, three over par.

The Yakima contender did not have a six on his card and had every club working smoothly. Skeel was out in 39 and back in 38, while Fovargue used up 40 strokes on the first nine and 38 on the second. The last-mentioned had two deuces on his round, one at the seventh and another on the 11th.

BALLINGER HAS 83
Jack Ballinger of Seattle, defending champion, qualified with an 83. He was out in 40 and back in 43.

It was announced yesterday that Mayne D. Hamilton, Vancouver, and E. L. Skeel, Seattle, have been selected captains of the teams for the annual international match on Thursday afternoon.

Sailfish Raises Large Fin to Wind

An old-time English explorer, Sir Stamford Raffles, made this note about an event during a voyage more than a century ago: "We have made an amusing discovery. A sailing fish, about 10 or 12 feet long, hoists a main-sail, and often sails in the manner of a native boat. It moves with considerable swiftness."

Sir Stamford was writing about fish which are much better known today than in his time. They are called "sailfish," and are relatives of swordfish.

A sailfish has a large fin which rises above its back to a height of about two feet. This fin is low in front, just behind the head, but goes up at a steep slant to full height. The fin has a length of from four to six feet along the back.

The statement about the sail being "hoisted" is quite true. While the fish swims under water, the fin is folded and lowered until it fits snugly in a groove in the back.

When the sailfish rises to the surface, the fin goes up. There is little doubt that winds which catch the "sail" are of some help in adding to the fish's speed.

A close relative of the sailfish is known as the "marlin." It does not have such a big fin above its back, but it has the same type of pointed snout as a sailfish.

The snout of a marlin has been compared to a spear. It is rounded, not flat like the sword of a true swordfish, or "broadsword."

A marlin is usually blue, black or dark brown above, but the lower parts are yellow or silvery.

WHICH IS LONGER, FLORIDA'S ATLANTIC OR GULF COASTLINE?

ANSWER: The gulf coastline; 674 miles to 472.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I wonder if you have heard of the Matrimonial Bond? A dear friend of mine was left a widow, with two babies and a factory so loaded with debt that she could not give it away. She had no business experience, but she rolled up her sleeves and went to work, supported the children and turned the factory from a failure into a success. Last summer she took her first vacation in nine years and met a fascinating and apparently wealthy man. But she is wary. So before she disposes of her business and announces her coming marriage she is going to ask him for a Matrimonial Bond of $5,000 in case the marriage goes awry. What do you think of the plan?

ANSWER: Sounds sensible to me. I have thought for a long time that if men and women both had to put up some sort of guarantee that they would give satisfaction as husbands and wives that it would stop a lot of marriages in the first place, that should never take place, and that, in the second place, it would be a sort of consolation prize to those whose mates failed to make good on their contracts.

Marriage is about the only enterprise that otherwise sane and sensible people go into without looking into what sort of an investment they are making, or trying to find out what kind of a partner they are tying up with, or whether they are being gypped in the trade or not.

Before we buy a piece of real estate we ascertain whether the title is clear or not, but we don't bother to find out whether there are any mortgages on the pasts of the men and women we marry.

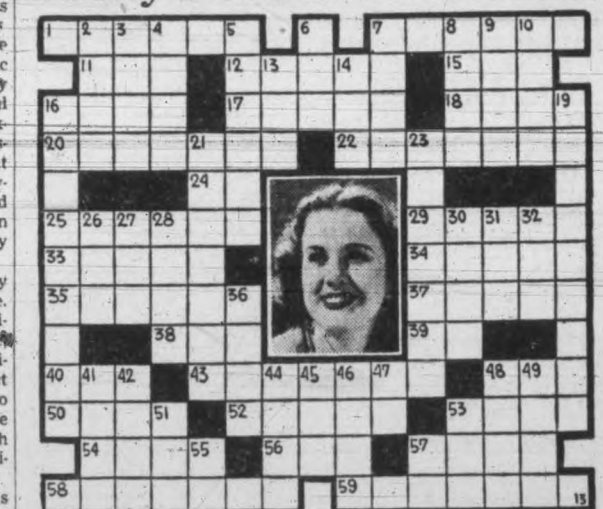

We don't buy a dog or a horse without looking up its pedigree, but we don't investigate the families of those we marry to see if there are any hereditary diseases in them.

We don't even try to find out, before marriage, whether the men and women we are proposing to live with the next 40 or 50 years are trustworthy, industrious, easy to get along with, or not.

So, it seems to me that if before they married the prospective bride and groom had to sign a Matrimonial Bond that would make them responsible for good behavior, it would do a lot to promote domestic felicity.

Conchies Protest

LONDON (CP)—British headline writers coined the word "Conchie" to fit "conscientious objector" into big type—and the public adopted the word. But the Conchie family, proud of its long fighting history, is unhappy about it and demands the press think up some other name.

J. Wright Conchie of Kidderminster, a veterinary surgeon and the family spokesman, pointed out today he joined the army in 1899 and "all my brothers and cousins—all Conchies—who were medically fit have been in the army or navy for the past three years."

Bernie Schwengers Defeats Champion

Defeat of Jack Ballinger, Seattle, defending champion by Bernie Schwengers, 1 up, featured the first round of match play in the grand championship of the Pacific Northwest Seniors' Golf Association at the Colwood Club today.

Schwengers, champion in 1937, and Ballinger, winner of the title last year at Oak Bay, engaged in a nip-and-tuck affair that ended on the 18th green.

Hon. John Hart, two-time holder of the crown in 1935-36, advanced to the second round by virtue of his 2 to 1 victory over W. H. Abbott of Bellingham.

J. P. Loudon of Yakima, playing in his first seniors' tournament and winner of the medal in yesterday's qualifying round, continued his fine golf to defeat O. B. Wright, Portland, 4 and 3. E. L. Skeel, Seattle, runner-up to Loudon in the medal round, failed to get by the first round, going down 2 and 1 to the veteran W. L. McCulloch of Portland. W. Fovargue, Aberdeen, who finished third in the medal round, won today from V. T. Tustin, Spokane, 3 and 2.

Mother Gives Life To Save Son

LONDON (CP) — A young mother gave her life to save her infant son during a German air raid on a southeastern English village yesterday.

When rescue workers dug their way into the debris of their house hours after it had been demolished by a bomb, the mother was found crouched protectively over the boy.

She died before reaching a hospital. The boy suffered only slight injuries.

Man Held For Assault

VANCOUVER (CP) — One man was in a critical condition in a hospital here today and police held another, following an alleged assault on a downtown street corner late last night.

Ole Nystad, address unknown, was in the hospital with a possible skull fracture, while his suspected assailant was held by police pending investigation.

4 Die in Train Wreck

RANGOON — Burma (CP-Reuters) — Four persons were killed and 21 injured when an express train to Mandalay was derailed last night 120 miles from Rangoon.

An investigation of the rails and ties today showed spikes had been removed.

Plane Fund Grows

Since the city forwarded to Ottawa last week returns from the air supremacy campaign to purchase planes for the Patricia Bay airport, additional donations have been received to the extent of $2,451, a statement prepared by the city comptroller-treasurer today disclosed.

Included in that sum were donations of $1,000 and $500 respectively from two Victoria ladies who preferred to preserve their anonymity. A full statement shows $19,363 collected through donations, $6,003 from the Silver Trail street collection, $338 from box collections, $180 from raffles and $14 from premiums on United States money. To that total of $25,918 was added the $10,000 given by the city to start the campaign. Expenses amounted to $87, leaving a net total of $35,851 to date.

Included among recent donations were $50 from the Ryan, Hiberson Timber Co. Ltd., $50 from the Pacific Buyers Agents Ltd., $25 from Mallet's Ltd., $50 on account from the Haida Indians, $20 from the Victoria Typographical Union, $77.60 from the staff of Western Air Command Headquarters, $50 from Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Abbott, $300 from R. Daniels, $357 from the Langford Speedway Ltd., and $50 from the Naval Veterans' Branch.

Donations may still be made at the office of the city comptroller-treasurer.

REPAIRS EFFECTED ON CITY SCHOOLS

A report on improvements carried out on various city schools during the summer vacation will be presented to the City School Board at its meeting tonight by the building and grounds committee.

Some renovation work is still under way at Victoria West Oaklands and Margaret Jenkins, but the majority of the schools have been put in shape for returning students who will resume their studies three weeks today.

Following a meeting this morning, the building and grounds committee outlined progress on repairs to the Victoria High School steps, completion of the $4,500 Burnside auditorium, redecorating of Bank Street, plumbing and plaster repairs, repainting and kalsomining at Sir James Douglas, rebuilding of an inner wall in the High School, completion of three new floors in North Ward, repainting of interior sections of Victoria College, and improvement of the Pemberton gymnasium at the Central Street High.

All school grounds have been brought into good condition and mowed and the city has finished creation of the New South Park playing field, Trustee F. G. Muller, chairman of the committee said.

9,500 Firms Help War Savings Drive

More than 9,500 firms through-out Canada are making payroll deductions for War Savings Certificates in the great continuous national drive to secure money to help finance Canada's war effort.

Mr. Higgins said the scheme 100 per cent. He said the national committee was constantly seeking new avenues to further the pledges. Railway employees, people working in the three branches of the service and Dominion and provincial civil servants were giving good support. The latest development is that arrangements have been made with banks whereby professional and retired persons can leave it to their bankers to make monthly deductions from their accounts.

Mr. Higgins is accompanied by E. V. Chown, Vancouver, provincial assistant of the National Advisory Committee. They are in Victoria for the purpose of consulting the local committee.

The response to the national effort was splendid, Mr. Higgins said.

"We are particularly delighted with the co-operation industry is according it," he said, and had a word of praise for British Columbia. Statistics in the early part of the campaign, he said, showed that subscriptions in this province were the highest per capita population in the whole of Canada.

$16,000,000 SUBSCRIBED

To give an example of the success of the operation, he quoted the Minister of Finance to the effect that during the first two months of the drive—May 27 to July 27—$16,000,000 was subscribed.

The War Savings organization, Mr. Higgins said, was different from the Red Cross and War Supremacy drives. "Ours is a continuous drive. We have no set objective. It is a horizontal development rather than a vertical project. We are trying to encourage the public to save money and at the same time help Canada in this national emergency," he said.

"In short, what we are after is weekly and monthly pledges. That is the heart of the thing we are trying to put over."

Deductions now being made to the war savings fund varied from 25 cents a week from a small girl wage-earner to $10 a month from the employee in good-paying industry. Some firms were behind

Arms Round-up Starts Thursday

Attorney-General Wismer today announced arrangements for the census of all rifles and shotguns in British Columbia under the national arms registration.

Beginning Thursday application forms will be available in Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo at B.C. city and municipal police offices and sporting goods stores.

A special supply of forms is being rushed airmail from Ottawa today so that registration can be started August 15. Forms may not be available for country points until a few days later.

Persons possessing guns are required to get application forms and fill them out, stating whether they are British subjects, their racial origin, and the type of gun they have with its make, model, year, calibre and the purpose for which it is used.

If the application is not approved the owner will be notified to surrender his gun within 10 days. Possession of a gun without a licence is a penalty of $50 fine or 30 days in jail, with each day of illegal possession constituting a fresh offence.

Under the national order all guns must be registered by September 15. Possession of an unregistered gun after that date is an offence.

It has been estimated more than 60,000 guns will be registered in British Columbia.

MEDITERRANEAN TAKES LUMBER

Indicating that shipping facilities to the United Kingdom have been restored to normal water-borne export of lumber from British Columbia in July reached the highest point since war started.

Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau figures show a total of 130,856,200 board feet shipped by water during the month. This is only 13,000,000 feet less than the record established in August last year and is an increase over June shipments.

The United Kingdom alone took 106,151,646 board feet or 80 per cent of the total. Africa took 8,656,157 board feet and Australia 3,798,581 board feet.

Reflecting British military activity in the Mediterranean, Egypt took 3,025,436 board feet and 150,570 feet went to Gibraltar. Arabia got 255,430 board feet.

Experiments have shown that whey is one of the richest sources of lactoflavin, or vitamin B2.

Cuba Parley Hull Triumph

Graham H. Stuart, professor of political science at Stanford University, who will address the Victoria branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, considers the decisions reached at the recent Havana conference of 21 republics as a great triumph for Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State.

Mr. Stuart is one of the outstanding American authorities on Latin America, as well as on France. He was a delegate to the Pan-American scientific conference held in Washington in April of this year. As an author he has written extensively on foreign affairs including "American Diplomatic and Consular Practice" and "Latin America and the United States."

His topic before the local organization tonight will be "American Foreign Policy, with special reference to Latin America."

"We now have the machinery for immediate action in countering any threat that may possibly be made against this western hemisphere," said Professor Stuart, explaining that the agreement reached at the Havana emergency conference takes the place of the Monroe Doctrine. "It means that we now have collective security, instead of individual security."

IMPORTANT DECISION

Under the U.S. "good-neighbor" policy, completed at the Havana Parley, the 21 republics agreed to consult and advise among themselves and set up machinery for mutual protection, created a 300-mile ocean neutral zone, and most important of all, agreed to a policy for the establishment of trusteeship over territory owned by a non-American power which might be threatened by any other non-American power.

DEMOCRATIC WAY

Mr. Stuart spoke of the democratic conception of the changing of treaties by diplomatic action as opposed to aggression nations' methods of force.

This, he said, was emphasized by the revision of the United States treaty with Cuba, which gave the U.S. the right of intervention, since abrogated, and revision of the treaty with Panama, in which the United States recognized Panama sovereignty. Before the democratic way of settling international dispute by peaceful means could be guaranteed, Mr. Stuart admitted it would be necessary to "smash the dictators."

GERMAN OPPOSITION

On the question of possible German internal aggression in South America, in countries where a large Teutonic population exists, Mr. Stuart said that the majority of Germans in Latin America, were opposed to aggression. "Many Germans in South America are opposed to the Hitler regime, and they don't want to be dictated to," the professor said.

PEACHES BEST NOW

Preserving peaches, the Rochester variety, are now at their peak in quality and quantity, with prices reduced today to the lowest they will be this season. The minimum cash and carry prices to the consumer is 99 cents a crate for No. 1's, and 88 cents a crate for No. 2's. It is expected that the Alberta and Ohio varieties will be 10 to 15 cents higher.

A large shipment of cantaloupes arrived from the Okanagan yesterday and today. The fruit has now passed its peak and sizes range from medium to small.

The first Ladyfinger and Pink seedless grapes of the season arrived today from California.

The usual amount of oranges, lemons and grapefruits is also included in the shipment.

New Flag

The magnificent flagpole which graces the front of British Columbia's Parliament Buildings—hewn from one of the virgin Douglas firs of the mighty coast forests—probably will have a new flag shortly.

For months a tiny bit of burning has flown from the top of the 150-foot staff, put to shame by the large Union Jacks that fly from the poles of other buildings in the city.

Premier Pattullo this morning decided to make it a personal matter with him to see what could be done about obtaining a flag more in keeping with the majesty of the flagstaff.

DISASTER LEADS TO CABINET CHANGES

Leaders' Deaths in Crash
Of Airplane Shock Australia

SYDNEY (AP) - Three members of the Australian War Cabinet, the Chief of the General Staff and six other persons were killed today in the flaming crash of a Royal Australian Air Force plane near the Canberra airport.

Prime Minister R. G. Menzies said the disaster was "a great national calamity, the consequences of which are not yet fully realized."

Those who lost their lives were: Brig. Geoffrey A. Street, Defence Minister; J. V. Fairbairn, Air Minister; Sir Henry Gullett, vice-president of the executive council; Lieut. Gen. Sir Brudenell White, chief of the general staff; R. E. Eford, Mr. Fair-bairn's secretary; Col. Thorn-thwaite, Brig. Street's secretary and four members of the plane's crew.

The ministers were en route from Melbourne to Canberra to attend a cabinet meeting.

TREASURE TROVE

808 GOVERNMENT

Soldiers, Airmen
Throng Theatres

LONDON (CP) - The musical shows all noisy are setting London's theatrical pace to the cheers of army, navy and air force players who apparently like any show without the omitones of war.

Even the revived musical hit of the first Great War, "Chu Chin Chow," is doing a steady business. Some of the new ones are playing two a night.

Close behind are 15 straight plays, including two United States imports - Clare Booth's
"Margin for Error" and Robert Arday's "Thunder Rock."

Managers say their houses are about the same as in peacetime, although the public's preference for musicals makes anything with a melody a sell-out.

They make only a secondary bid, however, for the vast audience of soldiers, sailors and airmen on 48-hour leave who throng the musicals, vaudeville theatres and London's lone burlesque.

Most popular are "Black and Blue" with the comedian, Vic Oliver; "Me and My Girl," which started 1,600 performances ago and still gets audiences to shout
"O!" with Lupino Lane as he finishes the Lambeth walk, and "New Faces," which is fast and funny.

The song hit - "A Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square" - is the current favorite of radio tenors and singing barmaids.

SHAKESPEARE AGAIN

Shakespeare is holding his own with "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and Bernard Shaw with
"The Devil's Disciple," in which Robert Donat sets female hearts throbbing.

Milton Rosmer as general
"Gentleman Johnny" Burgoyne steals one scene with a Shavian line cheered by officers and men
- "A British soldier can stand up to anything except his own war office."

Some critics say Miss Booth's fable - dealing with the murder of a Nazi consul - is weak stuff to a nation faced with total war.
Others call it better-than-average melodrama.

"Thunder Rock," with its embedded correspondent protagonist, swept back to world affairs from lighthouse isolation by a cast of ghosts, is a wordy display of what every Englishman feels - every American should think about current events.

When "Thunder Rock" was presented on Broadway a few seasons ago it closed quickly, but at that time the war, which the drama contemplates, had not yet materialized. Now, with its London success there is talk of it being revived in the new world.

Man Wounds Girl,

Trips' Loses Life
SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) - Police today investigated the death of John Bozak, railway section hand, in a fall shortly after he is alleged to have fired five bullets into Annie Hrynuk, 17-year-old Sud-bury waitress, last night. Police said Bozak died of a broken neck when he tripped over the wounded girl's body and fell to the pavement.

Hospital authorities today reported the girl was able to talk and her general condition showed improvement.

Police believe Bozak had been in Sudbury two or three weeks and the only identification mark on the body was a paper bearing his name found in his clothing.

Close the Ranks

And Drive Forward
LONDON (CP) - Prime Minister Churchill today expressed Britain's sympathy for Australia in the loss of three cabinet members and the chief of her army staff.

"In this hour there will be one other thought - equally spontaneous and equally widespread - close the ranks and carry on," the Prime Minister said in the House of Commons.

Viscount Caldecote, Dominions
Secretary, said today in a broadcast tribute to the Australian leaders who lost their lives that it was "difficult to find words to express sorrow and distress in the face of such a blow."

Briefly, he outlined the deeds accomplished by the ministers and those who died with them,
and added:

"It may seem difficult for any country to replace such a loss, but we know the great part they have played in developing Australia's magnificent contribution to the joint was effort will not be wasted."

"On the sure foundation they have laid others will build securely until final victory is won."

Country Loses

Well-known Soldier
Lieut. Gen. Sir Cyril Brudenell
Bingham White, aged 64, one of Australia's most brilliant soldiers, was recalled last March to his old post of chief of the general staff owing to the death of Gen. E. K.
Squires. Gen. White had held the post from 1920 to 1923.

He mobilized the Commonwealth's forces in 1914 and was Gen. Monash's right hand man with the first Australian Imperial Force in Gallipoli and France.
He also served in the South African War at the turn of the century.

Regret Voiced

By Canadian Leaders
OTTAWA (CP) - Word of the deaths of four Australian cabinet ministers in an airplane crash today recalled the death of the former Canadian Minister of National Defence, Hon. Norman Rogers, in an airplane crash in June.

The loss suffered by the government of Australia occasioned keen sympathy in Ottawa.

Air Minister J. V. Fairbairn was particularly well-known in air force circles here as he headed the Australian delegation which

SAFARI OPENS
AT DOMINION

Recommended as absorbing screen fare is Paramount's suspenseful and intriguing romantic drama, "Safari," costarring Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Madeleine Carroll, which opens today at the Dominion Theatre. Studded with exceptionally fine individual performances, and distinguished by an interesting and expertly devised story, it offers entertainment of a high order.

Briefly, the picture has to do with a wealthy, arrogant baron
- played by Tullio Carminati - who entertains as guests on his yacht, Madeleine Carroll and Muriel Angelus. Madeleine is plotting to marry Carminati, but finally recognizes her only chance is to incite his jealousy. Arriving at M'Pola, West Africa, the starting point of a safari, Carminati has planned, he is incensed because Fairbanks, whom he has hired to lead the expedition, does not meet the boat.

Knowing that Carminati hopes for his death, Fairbanks emerges with a torn arm - angrily disbands the camp, and orders the safari back to M'Pola. After telling off both Madeleine and Carminati he planes back alone and prepares to fly to Europe and the war. In a series of fast-paced scenes the picture is brought to a dramatic climax.

PLAZA THEATRE

"Shipyard Sally," featuring Gracie Fields, the jovial queen of comedy, toast of Britain, is at the Plaza Theatre.

The story is an engaging one, telling of Gracie's single-handed efforts to restore prosperity to the great British shipyards at Clydebank, which form the setting for the picture.

In this film, which also stars
Sydney Howard, Gracie sings such old favorites as "Danny Boy" and "Annie Laurie," and also introduces a new swinging hit called "I've Got the Jitterbugs." Oliver Wakefield, the famed "double-talk" comedian, also has a prominent part in the picture.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Mae West and W. C. Fields, two of the most celebrated figures in the entertainment world, come to the Oak Bay Theatre today in their new starring picture, Universal's "My Little Chickadee."

Heralded as one of the outstanding screen combinations of all time, the curvaceous actress and the flaming-nosed funster blend their colorful personalities in a rip-roaring comedy of frontier days. The story is said to be alive with rootin'-tootin' action played against a background of romance, skulduggery and music.

CADET THEATRE

Academy award winner Fay Bainter makes her newest appearance today on the Cadet screen in the role of Mrs. Edison in "Young Tom Edison," biographical drama of the boyhood of the great inventor. The title role is played by Mickey Rooney, with other members of the family comprising George Bancroft as Mickey's dad and little Virginia Weidler as his sister.

RIO THEATRE

Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor head the cast of "Valley of the Giants," the Technicolor picture based by Warner Bros.
on the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, which is now at the Rio Theatre.

It is the story of the successful fight waged to prevent the further despoliation of California's famous redwood forests by ruthless eastern lumber interests (represented by Charles Bickford) around the turn of the century.
